

BRAINERD WOMAN MURDERED

MRS. WM. ZODROW
STABBED IN YARD
OF IRONTON HOME

OLE SAUGE, 45, IRONTON, HELD BY AUTHORITIES FOLLOWING TRAGEDY EARLY TODAY

JEALOUSY BLAMED FOR CRUEL SLASHING; WOMAN DIES IN WOODSHED

Mrs. William Zodrow, 33 years old, formerly Catherine Shields of Brainerd, who had moved to Iron-ton with her husband from Brainerd one year ago, was brutally murdered by stabbing at 12:50 A. M. today and her body found in the back yard of the home of Mrs. Edward Johnson, 1215 First Street, Iron-ton, after she had left a car with two men who had taken her and Mrs. Opal Glenn there from Mrs. Glenn's home.

Ole Sauge, 45, a miner employed in Armour No. 2 mine, Iron-ton, has been placed under arrest by county authorities and is being grilled.

Sauge is reported by the authorities to have partially confessed the murder inasmuch that he quarreled with Mrs. Zodrow and struck her with a knife. Authorities expect a complete confession of the crime by Sauge when he is brought to the county jail here late this afternoon, following the inquest at Crosby.

Jealousy on the part of Sauge, who was reported to have been paying Mrs. Zodrow attention, was blamed for the deed.

While the horrible tragedy was enacted Mr. Zodrow and his six children were asleep at their home at 321 1/2 Oak Street, Iron-ton.

Mrs. Zodrow died in the woodshed built in at the rear of the Johnson home, a humble dwelling. The back yard of the home was red and black with blood where Mrs. Zodrow had ran shrieking after the knife used by the attacker had severed an artery in her right limb about six inches above the knee.

The theory of the murder as believed by the authorities on questioning of parties involved is that Sauge who was in the Johnson home and waiting for Mrs. Zodrow to return, had left the house on hearing a car drive up, had argued with the men in the car, and had ran after Mrs. Zodrow when she attempted to leave the car to enter the home.

Sauge claimed that Mrs. Zodrow struck him. It is believed by authorities that irrespective of whether she did or not, an altercation took place and that Sauge slipped on the ice near the house, and in a fit of rage took a knife from his pocket and dug it into the victim's leg.

Mrs. Johnson arose from a sick bed, sick from nervous prostration caused by the horrible happenings of the night, to tell her story to authorities this morning.

She told a disjointed story of trying to save the dying woman by wrapping a towel around her leg as a tourniquet and of such excitement in the home that few knew what actually happened. She said that the woman died without speaking or telling who struck her and that her death came only a few minutes after she heard her scream.

Mrs. Johnson claimed in her story that Sauge was in the house when the woman was murdered, that he rushed outside when he heard her scream and carried her into the woodshed.

Mrs. Johnson, who still wore the same dress she had on last night and with spots of blood covering it, said that Opal (Mrs. Glenn) came into the house and replied to Sauge's questioning that Mrs. Zodrow was in the car outside and would be in soon.

Tracing the happenings leading up to the crime, County Attorney Arthur J. Sullivan and Sheriff Claus A. Theorin learned today:

That Mrs. Zodrow had left her home about 8 P. M. and had gone to the home of Mrs. Johnson where Mrs. Ivy Nevela, a neighbor of Mrs. Zodrow, had joined them a few minutes later.

That Mrs. Zodrow and Mrs. Nevela had left the Johnson home about 10 P. M., walking.

That Mrs. Nevela had left Mrs. Zodrow and the latter had continued on her way to the home of Opal Glenn, Mrs. Nevela going to her home.

That two men, William Haugen of Iron-ton, and Louis Raymond, of Deer-wood, were at the Glenn home and offered to take Mrs. Glenn and Mrs. Zodrow over to the Johnson home.

That the party of four had arrived at the Johnson home and Mrs. Glenn had entered the Johnson home leaving Mrs. Zodrow in the car with the two men.

The arrival of the party of four at the Johnson home was clearly traced by the authorities. The happenings then have not been cleared up to the satisfaction of the authorities although the theory is expounded and substantiated partially by Sauge that Sauge left the house in heated rage to see that Mrs. Zodrow left the car immediately.

Over in the Zodrow home today Mr. Zodrow related grimly of his wife leaving the home early in the evening and replying to little Alice's questioning, "You won't be gone long, will you mother?" "No, mother's only going out for a little while."

In the home the children gathered in a circle to look with startled faces at the visitors who came and asked so many questions.

There was Margaret, 15, who will become the "little mother" to the children and who was already preparing food for the dinner at which their mother would not be present, Margaret who through her maiden years until the children are older, must remain at home to watch the kiddies and see that they wash their faces before going to school.

There was Walter, 13, the only boy of the family, who must play the part of the big little man and protect his sisters.

And there were Leona, 11, Alice, 9, Marian, 7, and Evelyn, 5, who realized only in a vague way at present what tragedy had come into their lives, who watched strangers sadly and who cried a little when they thought of their mother who "wasn't coming home again."

There was the father and husband of the dead woman who had come to Iron-ton to work in the mines after living 30 years in Brainerd, having attended the Brainerd schools.

"Yes, Brainerd, is my home. I worked in the boiler shops of the N. P. there. Katherine has her family there. She was raised in Brainerd and we were married there 16 years ago," Mr. Zodrow said in telling of his wife's life.

"Yes, her father died a year ago in St. Paul where he had been taken to the hospital after getting his arm smashed at the N. P. shops," he said. "Her mother, Mrs. Jane Shields, lives at 1207 Norwood Street."

Mrs. Zodrow leaves also four sisters, Mrs. Clarence Faucault of Duluth, Mrs. Margaret Kittleson of St. Paul, Agnes Shields who is a student in her senior year at the Brainerd high school, and Miss Violet Shields of Brainerd, and three brothers, Phillip of Brainerd, Sam of Muskegon, Mich., and Jack Shields of Iron-ton.

Officers first called to the Johnson home after the tragedy were Emil Swanson and George Ridley of Iron-ton.

OHIO LAW CALLS FOR HEAVY VOTE OF STOCKHOLDERS TO EFFECT STEEL MERGER

VAN SWERINGEN INTERESTS MAY SEEK CONSOLIDATIONS IN RAILROAD WORLD

By ELMER C. WALZER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, March 27.—Approach of the special meeting of Youngstown Sheet & Tube Company stockholders to vote on a merger with Bethlehem Steel Corporation to form a billion dollar company has brought out reports of mergers in other fields.

The year 1930 will break all records in mergers, it is predicted. Wall Street observers look for consummation of the merger of Standard Oil Company of New York and Vacuum Oil Company through issuance of a clean bill in the courts, and if that consolidation should be permitted others are expected.

Today's merger possibilities included:

1. Union of Sears, Roebuck and Gimbels. Sears Roebuck has assets of $251,849,325 and Gimbels of $67,413,802, a combination making a company with assets of $319,263,127. The two had sales of $568,088,914 in 1929.

2. United Aircraft & Transport Corporation is to take over National Air Transport. According to well-informed observers, United has been buying National Air Transport stock in the open market.

3. The $700,000,000 merger of Sinclair Consolidated Oil & Gas Corporation and Prairie Oil & Gas Company, temporarily suspended may still be consummated. Negotiations are being resumed.

Meanwhile predictions are being made that the Bethlehem-Youngstown Sheet & Tube merger will not be accepted by Youngstown stockholders. The obstacle is the Ohio law which makes necessary two-thirds vote of outstanding common stock. If the opposition masses 400,001 shares it will fall through.

It is believed that strong interests are accumulating Colorado Fuel & Iron stock preparatory to merging it with one of the big companies. Among the companies mentioned are U. S. Steel, Republic Steel Corporation and Bethlehem Steel Corporation.

Other Steel Companies with merger possibilities are Jones & Laughlin of Pittsburgh, Inland Steel of Chicago and Gulf States Steel.

Recent heavy financing by Van Sweringen railroads leads to the belief that they will shortly take the initiative again in trying to bring about vast consolidations in the railroad world.

ENGLISH CABINET
MAY BUY DOMESTIC
WHEAT CROP SOON

London, March 27.—(U.P.)—The cabinet has decided to advise adoption of a plan for state purchase of the domestic wheat crop, the London Daily Herald parliamentary correspondent said today.

Approval also was given, the correspondent said, to a plan for the organization of district selling agencies with membership on a compulsory basis.

The cabinet further was said to have endorsed regulating by statute the minimum content of home-grown wheat in all flour milled in Great Britain.

FARMER-LABOR
CONVENTION IN
ATTACK ON G. O. P.

PREDICT THIRD PARTY WILL HAVE GREATEST SUCCESS IN STATE ELECTIONS

SENTIMENT FAVORS NOMINATION OF FLOYD B. OLSON FOR GOVERNOR

St. Paul, Minn., Minn., March 27.—(U.P.)—The Minnesota farmer-labor convention today vigorously attacked the present republican administration and predicted the third party will have its greatest success in this year's state election.

Sentiment on the convention floor appeared strongly in favor of the nomination of Floyd B. Olson, Hennepin county attorney, for governor. Selection of a slate for the election was not scheduled at today's sessions, however.

W. W. Carss, Proctor, former congressman, said Minnesota voters realize that their best candidates are farmer-laborites and predicted the third party ticket will sweep the state. He said the citizens realize clearly for the first time "the dangers of an invisible government."

"President Hoover started out to give the farmers relief by changing the tariff. Some 21,000 tariff schedules were raised and now European countries can not pay their war debts to the United States in goods. The debts never will be paid in gold."

Former Senator Magnus Johnson, Kimball, announced before the 300 delegates that he is not a candidate for any office, but shouts of "You may be before this convention ends," greeted him from the floor. Johnson said the farmers have "more fight in you than ever before."

Frank T. Starkey, St. Paul, secretary of the convention, announced resolutions will be debated and the state slate chosen tomorrow.

Among the committeemen appointed was W. H. Winst of Fergus Falls to the committee on rules and order of business.

PRISON CHAIR FACTORY WORKERS START VIOLENT DEMONSTRATION

400 SHIRT FACTORY WORKERS TRY TO THROW MACHINES OUT OF WINDOWS

By NOLEN BULLOCH
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

State Penitentiary, Jefferson City, Mo., March 27.—Mutiny swept through the ranks of shop workers in this crowded, century old prison today and turned it into an arsenal of guns and troops pitted against lines and cell blocks of sullen inmates.

Militia units, police and prison guards armed with machine and riot guns and reinforced by ready mobilization of militia aviation groups bearing bombs, stood guard over the walls and courtyard to halt any actual violence.

They prepared for a possible general rebellion a trusty said was plotted in the prisoners' demand for "better food, less work and better foremen."

Warden Leslie Rudolph commanded a small army to prevent what he said was "inevitable trouble."

Men manned machine guns in the armory and other posts overlooking the prison courtyard as 900 inmates who participated in strikes at the chair, shirt and pants shops, were marched in tense and mutinous groups back to their cells for confinement without food.

A serious outbreak was threatened shortly after noon when 750 prisoners in the dining room of the mess hall refused to come out and entered the mutiny.

At 1:50 P. M. the mutinous prisoners in the mess hall began throwing dishes and eating utensils out of the windows, smashing the panes.

The guards had cleared the courtyard completely and troopers in the armory commanded a clean sweep of the enclosure with their rifles and machine guns.

Keys to all cells and offices had been taken outside the walls as a precaution against a general riot and liberation of fellow prisoners by the leaders.

The mutinous mess hall prisoners crashed out of the windows and into the courtyard and when guards attempted to head them to their cells, fighting broke out. Guards clubbed the convicts viciously and a free-for-all fight ensued. It was estimated 50 prisoners were taken to the prison hospital, suffering cracked or badly bruised skulls.

Jefferson City, Mo., March 27.—Dangerous state of unrest among 4,000 prisoners of Missouri's crowded state prison was marked again today by mutiny of its inmates.

A new demonstration by workers in

AUSTRIAN SOLDIERS AND COMMUNISTS
IN FIERCE CLASHES

Vienna, March 27.—(U.P.)—Reports from the town of Gratz said 20 were injured and many arrested during a clash there between the heimwehr soldiery and communists.

Rome, March 27.—(U.P.)—Communists attacking the Chinese city of Kanchow, Kiangsi province, had been repelled and the safety of 11 missionaries assured, a report from Shanghai to the Catholic Missionary News agency said today. The report said Monsignor O'Shea, apostolic vicar, and 10 American Lazarists inside the city had regained their freedom.

the prison-chair factory today resulted in dispatch of general mobilization orders to the state militia by Governor Henry S. Caulfield and set a cordon of troops, police and prison guards—bristling with weapons—into the prison yard and about its walls.

The mutiny extended among 400 men of the shirt factory shortly after the chair shop demonstration. These shirt workers attempted to throw the shop machines out of the shirt factory windows.

The mutiny spread further when workers on the third floor of the pants factory, where 1,000 additional prisoners worked, took up the strike.

The gesture of mutiny by the factory workers today followed a similar demonstration in the general mess hall yesterday.

As the chair factory workers prepared for their tasks today, they suddenly became mutinous, refused to work, and quit their jobs under escort of increased guards, who hurried them to solitary confinement in the "hard boiled" cell house.

The factory mutineers, about 40 in the violent group, shouted "We have not enough to eat," and followed this battle cry with an additional complaint of "too many tasks."

Warden Leslie Rudolph and additional guards were summoned immediately. Fearful lest the time had come when the sullen convicts would force bloodshed, they did not argue with the men but marched them under guns to immediate confinement.

Governor Henry S. Caulfield issued an ultimatum immediately to the state units of the national guard and advised all to stand by ready for an emergency.

Prison guards, numbering about 165, day and night shift, were on active duty. The militia units kept outside the walls to prevent any effect of agitation by their presence.

Officials said they were tipped by a trusty that a "general riot" had been called among the inmates by noon today.

On this information Governor Henry S. Caulfield called out the state militia, ordering five units from surrounding towns to get here by noon.

Two bombing planes of national guard units at St. Louis were ordered to be put in readiness and await orders to proceed here.

The strike movement also swept into its ranks the remainder of the chair factory workers, numbering 400, in addition to the 40 instigators who were placed in the "hard boiled" cell house.

All prison shops were closed down and hurried efforts were made to march all inmates to their cells without bloodshed.

Difficulty was reported in rounding up the idle and mutinous men.

With this word, machine gun squads of the national guard were sent inside the prison walls with their guns.

They took up their post in the prison oileery.

Simultaneously, Jefferson City police, who had been held in ready seclusion, were dispatched within the walls, in addition to the county sheriff's staff.

Capt. J. P. Sparks, in command of national guard aviation units, announced he had a bombing plane at the local airport, warmed up and manned for action. He said eight additional national guard bombing planes at St. Louis had been warned to stand by in event of summons.

The crisis of the current demonstration was anticipated at the main noon lunch hour, if it materialized in any violent form. At noon an underground call for a general strike movement had been set, officials said.

However, the 900 strikers involved in demonstrations at the chair, shirt and pants shops, were being herded to their cells at 11 A. M.

They filed through the courtyard in straggling, sullen lines, prodded by armed guards. The prisoners were in an ugly mood, demanding "better food, less work and better shop foremen."

Prison officials, to alleviate the possibility of a general demonstration during the main mess hour, announced the 900 strikers would be held in their cells.

Other prisoners, such as office workers and men not assigned to tasks, were being fed, however.

VAST BLANKET
OF SNOW COVERS
MIDWEST AREA

NEW ALL TIME RECORD 19.1 INCHES OF PRECIPITATION FALLS

STORM BROUGHT 50 MILE AN HOUR GALE, BLIZZARDS, PERIODS OF QUIET

Chicago, March 27.—(U.P.)—Man's war against nature was fought today along a serried waste of snow that covered a vast swath of the middle west with the heaviest blanket laid in a single storm since weather bureau records have been kept in the region.

When the last flakes fell shortly before last midnight, a new all-time record of 19.1 inches of precipitation had fallen.

The snow had been practically continuous for 4 hours. The storm had run the gamut of wintry tactics, employing 50-mile gales, periods of calm, blinding blizzard and gentle snowfall by turns.

Wary from two days of battle to keep a fraction of its transportation facilities in operation, thousands of men in Chicago buckled into drifts under the spur of threatened food and milk shortage. Hope that the peril could be avoided and the vast business of the city kept moving mounted when the snow ceased coming down.

Virtually all highways were still blocked in an area bounded by Milwaukee, Wis., Rockford, LaSalle, and Peoria, Ill. St. Louis, Mo., Toledo, O., and Detroit. Highway department crews slowly carved their way along the roads, freeing cities and villages from absolute isolation and rescuing motorists stalled in the deep snow.

Death toll of the storm in the Chicago region rose to 11 and the number injured as a direct result of the snow was estimated at 50.

Six were killed yesterday in or near Chicago. They were: Michael Praton, 35, laborer who fell while running for a street car; John Whalen, 65, struck by a train while shoveling snow; John Florentine, 55, who died of exhaustion after struggling through the blizzard; Henry Baldenow, 54, struck by a train while blinded by snow; Michael Kuraska, 74, who died while shoveling snow, and John Fitzgerald, 60, another victim of over exertion.

When she went to look for her two young sons, delayed by the storm, Mrs. O'Hare Foltz fell in a snowdrift near Charleston and was frozen to death. The boys found shelter at a neighbor's house.

Scarcely anyone living in the region escaped some suffering or privation. Schools in Chicago were closed until further notice and about 75 per cent of the rural schools did not open their doors.

Thousands of loop office workers arrived to work somewhere near on time today after two days of being an hour or several hours late. Many went to their offices from downtown hotels again, having decided not to chance the trip home and return.

Courts were tied up yesterday because neither judges, witnesses nor attorneys could get there on time. Mail deliveries were reduced to two in the business districts and one in residential districts. Several hundred telephones failed in the suburbs. Power was off intermittently in scores of villages and towns in the metropolitan area.

Because the snow had lashed Lake Michigan into frenzy, turning the city's drinking water to a muddy hue, a double ratio of chlorine was ordered to guard against an epidemic of disease.

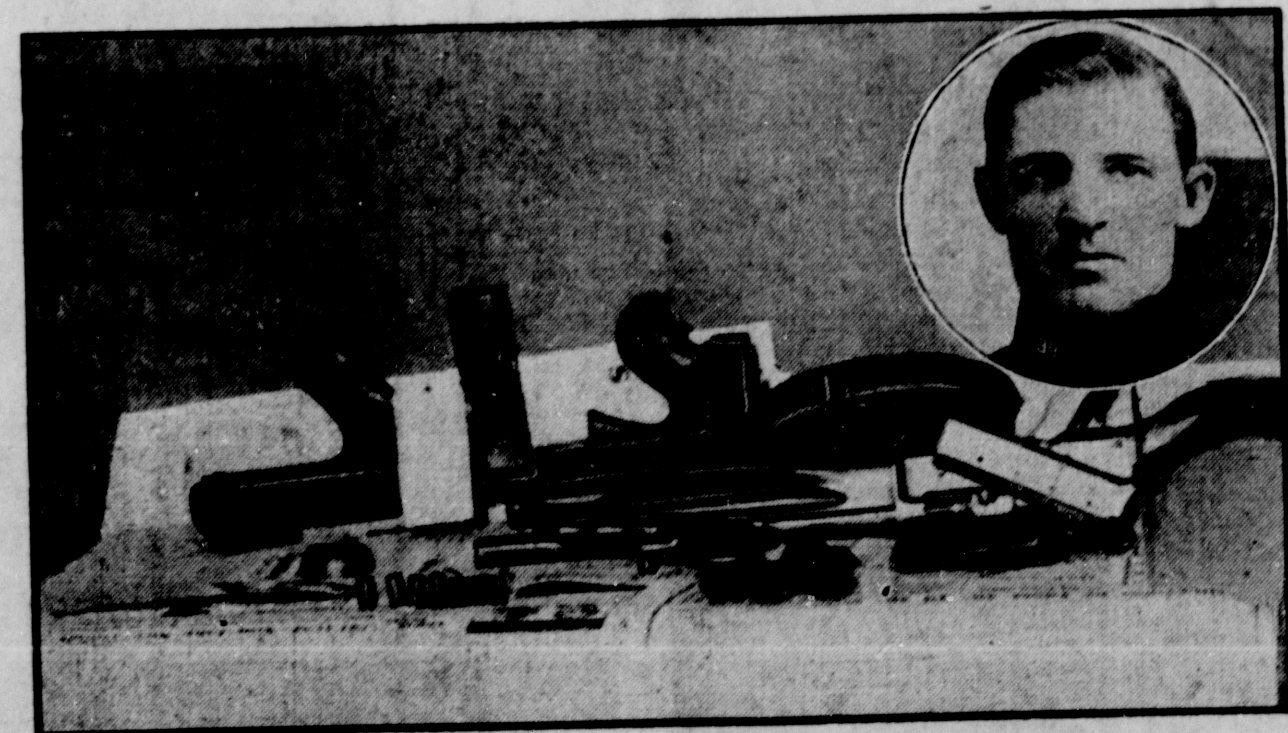

Street car service in Chicago and its suburbs was far from normal despite the efforts of 22,000 men to clear the tracks. More than 3,000 men and five snow plows toiled in the loop to keep streets clear enough of snow and slush so automobiles and trucks could move. At least $50,000 will be needed for the loop work alone, it was estimated.

At principal intersections in other parts of the city, 800 men managed to keep some vehicular traffic moving. No attempt was made to clear other than main thoroughfares.

The only transportation means that had not been affected seriously was the elevated system. Tabulation revealed that approximately 1,000,000 persons were carried yesterday, a new record. Suburban electric and steam lines neared schedules today, after operating on a hit-or-miss basis during the worst of the storm.

Taxicab drivers were potentia in their own right. Men and women stood in the streets last night beseeching passing cabs to return for them when they had unloaded passengers.

Miss Gladys Benson of Brainerd was a visitor at the C. D. Taylor home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Hall and family of Pequot were Sunday visitors with Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Taylor.

Rev. Walter Smith gave services at the Silver Lake school Sunday. Sunday school was organized, the following officers chosen: Mrs. Ralph Borden, superintendent; Mrs. Chas. Borden, assistant superintendent; Mrs. O. C. Foughty, secretary-treasurer. Sunday school will start April 6.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Glanville moved to A. L. Gage home Monday.

Several of the neighbors spent Monday evening at the Feierabend home the occasion being Mr. Feierabend's birthday. The evening and lunch were enjoyed by all.

Quite a number from Center attended the sale of Marvin Cleveland of Lake Edwards Tuesday.

A. L. Gage purchased a horse at the Cleveland sale Tuesday.

WOODROW

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Moser and son Warren were dinner guests at John Ellstrom's Sunday, March 23.

J. P. Dullum has received a consignment of men's and boys' spring caps. Mr. and Mrs. Raymond King and daughter Virginia were guests at Dullum's Sunday.

John Shuffelen, Sr., is laying off his crew, being unable to sell timber.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Britton now live at Henry Britton's.

Some of the young men went out and brought in a discarded still. They felt that they had discovered a small copper mine. Here and there one finds evidence of the moonshine days.

Frank Simonson of Pine Shores was an overnight guest of Edward Dullum Monday night.

Mr. Reid's trucks are busy hauling timber to the landing near Loerch.

Mrs. Dullum has received another shipment of groceries from Serve-U-Well.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond King have rented the Tugwell place and expect to start farming.

The trappers are busy these days harvesting muskrats.

Rev. Mr. Smith held services in our school house Sunday to a small congregation. He organized Sunday school which will begin April 6 at 10:30 A. M. All are welcome.

"Jimmy, I wish you would learn better table manners. You're a regular little pig at the table."

Deep silence on Jimmy's part. So father, in order to impress him more, added: "I say, Jimmy, do you know what a pig is?"
"Yes, sir," replied Jimmy meekly, "it's a hog's little child."

Re-roof Now. Save all the expense, avoid dirt-littered lawns and attic, don't expose the interior of your home to the weather. Lay Mule-Hide shingles right over the old roof. Let the worn out shingles act as extra insulation. Keep your home cooler in summer and warmer in winter. We furnish you with a written guarantee and convenient terms if you desire them.

Farmer: Hello, Ed, say, I've got a freak over to my place, a two-legged calf.

Neighbor: Yeah, I know it. He came over to call on my daughter last night.

Stop—letting the old house get on your nerves when so economically you can bring refreshed interest into your home by a new window or two, a new hardwood floor, a cheery sunroom, a new roof or a more comfortable porch. Call 112 for service.

FUNERAL RITES FOR ANTON GILBERTSON

Church Crowded With Friends as
Services Were Held on Wednesday

Anton Gilbertson passed away Saturday afternoon, following a stroke of apoplexy. He had been ill since last November.

Mr. Gilbertson was born in Oslo, Norway, Sept. 15, 1855. In 1880 he emigrated to America, coming to Minneapolis. The next year 1881 he moved to Brainerd where he has resided since.

He has continuously been employed working as foreman in the car shops, at the Northern Pacific railway shops. He received his pension four years ago.

In 1885 he married Miss Lena Anderson who survives him together with three children, Mrs. Charles W. Green of Duluth, Mrs. H. A. Smith of Iron River, Mich., and George of the U. S. S. Coghlan with headquarters at Philadelphia. He also leaves two grandchildren, one brother, E. Gilbertson of Oslo, Norway and two sisters, Mrs. Toger Peterson and Mrs. Julia Wold, both of Brainerd.

Mr. Gilbertson was well known in Brainerd for his long and faithful service to the Bethlehem Lutheran church, where throughout 45 years of membership he served as a teacher in the Sunday school, as member of the board of trustees, and later as member of the board of deacons.

He was always looked up to with great confidence as a leader in the congregation, and was instrumental in the splendid progress of the work. Mr. Gilbertson was active and interested until the last, always showing a rare loyalty, combined with youthful enthusiasm and optimism.

The church will deeply miss his loyal, consecrated efforts, but with grateful hearts, will always remember the life and deeds of this beloved member.

The funeral was held Wednesday afternoon and brought a large attendance to the church. The choir sang two numbers and Mrs. O. A. Koskinen sang a solo. Rev. J. R. Michaelson conducted the services. Floral offerings were many and very beautiful. The pallbearers were O. A. Peterson, John M. Bye, O. D. Larson, Henry Anderson, Albert J. Ellison and Simon Anderson. There was a large attendance of the Northern Pacific Veterans Association, in which the deceased had held membership. These veterans furnished the honor guard while the body lay in state from the morning hour until the time of the funeral.

IMPROVEMENTS AT GAS PLANT

Additional Construction is to be Carried on This Spring

In August, 1924 There Were 350, Today There Are Approximately 840

Additional construction will be carried on this spring by the Northern States Power Co., at their local gas plant. A new fire-proof building is to be erected over the purification apparatus, and will be equipped with a heating system to protect the apparatus from the extreme cold.

Various other changes have been made in the plant since the Northern States Power Co. took it over, and duplicate pieces of machinery and manufacturing apparatus have been installed, and everything possible done to insure constant and continuous service.

When the Northern States Power Co. took over this property, in August 1924, there were approximately 350 customers on the lines. Today there are approximately 840, and the number is increasing steadily.

There have been two rate reductions placed in effect during this time, one in May 1925, which is now known as the standard rate, and the other in May 1929, known as the optional rate. This optional rate offers a very low figure for the use of additional appliances in your home, such as, water heaters, incinerators, refrigerators, laundry stoves, etc. Approximately 200 of the customers have availed themselves of the new and lower optional rate, and it is the hope of the company to make additional rate reductions as the volume of gas sold here increases.

The Brainerd chapter will confer the second degree on a number of candidates of both Brainerd and St. Cloud. There will be three candidates from the city.

The evening will open with a banquet at 6:30 o'clock at the Masonic hall. The degree work will follow with entertainment afterwards. It is expected about 40 from Brainerd will attend.

12 YEAR OLD LAD IN PIANO RECITAL.

Versatile Marion Eliot Newman Plays Program of Substantial Music

(Contributed)

It is obvious that relatives, friends, teachers, and former teachers of Marion Eliot Newman might be a bit indulgent in their attitude toward that lad when he was presented in piano recital by Mrs. W. A. M. Johnstone at her home Wednesday evening. But in justice to the young pianist, let it be said that the plaudits he received were rightfully his. Four years of study and effort were made manifest to the sympathetic audience, but any stranger who chanced in found himself delighted with the performance of the youthful recitalist who played a program of substantial music that gave him an opportunity to display his versatility.

A little more than 12 years of age, Marion Eliot Newman announced his own selections which ran the gamut of composers from Kuhlau to Reinhold, from Bach to MacDowell and from Brahms to Tchaikowsky, with an ease and a poise that is oftentimes lacking in older virtuosi. Then, when he had provided his audience with the necessary background, his nimble fingers ran unaffectedly over the ivory keys to produce difficult arpeggios, rhythmic cadences and mellifluous harmonies.

Lovers of technique were treated to the "Sonatina" opus 20, number 2 (Kuhlau) and to the "Impromptu," Opus 28, number 3 by Reinhold. Those who listened for expressive effects heard a rendition of Brahms' "Waltz," Opus 39, number 13, to satisfy them that an understanding of the demands of such a number was not a shortcoming in one so young as the recitalist. Perhaps this waltz was the outstanding contribution to the short but interesting program although mention should be made of the playing of MacDowell's "Woodland Sketches," particularly "From an Indian Lodge," and the charming piece by Tchaikowsky known as "The Lark's Song."

Without seeming to wax excessively enthusiastic, any would-be hinterland Huneker might safely predict a future for Marion Eliot Newman should he continue his musical education. Under the able, efficient and decidedly helpful tutelage of Mrs. W. A. M. Johnstone, this young musician has advanced to the point where he can be presented in such a recital as was heard last night and can continue his progress on the high road to success, one milestone of which he now has already traversed.

DAILY SERVICES IN PASSION WEEK

Ministerial Association Adopts Program to Fittingly Observe Week

At a special meeting of the Brainerd Ministerial Association, Monday morning at the Y. M. C. A., it was decided to ask the citizens of Brainerd and the surrounding country to fittingly observe Passion Week by meeting together for services of worship each day from Monday to Friday, closing with a Friday evening service in the Presbyterian church.

The day services will be 30 minute services and will be conducted in the morning in some suitable downtown building, with different pastors speaking from day to day.

Rev. Alexander G. Patterson, Rev. T. M. Krauss and Rev. Edgar A. Vallant were appointed to serve as a committee on arrangements.

This committee met yesterday morning and appointed the following committees on Passion Week observance: Announcement, Rev. Edgar A. Vallant, Peterson and Rev. Ackesman; place of meeting, Rev. T. M. Krauss, Rev. F.

A. Kufus and Mrs. Fallquist; program, Rev. Alexander G. Patterson, Rev. N. P. Olmsted and Rev. Walter Smith.

THE WORDS on the back of the package still mean what they say. No "extras," which do not contribute to the quality of the smoke, are included in the price of Camels. Just the utmost smoke-enjoyment that modern science can put into a cigarette.

That statement was on the first package of Camels manufactured and has been on every one of the billions of Camel packages sold from that day to this. When it was first written, other cigarette manufacturers were giving away flags, pictures of actresses, pictures of ball players—almost anything that would make the smoker think he was getting something extra for his money. The makers of Camels believed the smoker wanted a cigarette sold strictly on its merits, with all of its cost put into quality—a cigarette made of such excellent tobaccos—so perfectly blended—so mellow—so fragrant—that it would win its own way.

The vast popularity of Camels is a tribute to that four-square policy.

The High School Cafeteria

THE high school cafeteria is in operation for noonday lunches and a week's work has shown the innovation is appreciated and the patronage of students and others is convincing that it is a worthwhile enterprise.

Miss Bertha Filk, home training instructor, is in charge of the cafeteria and her student helpers, five in number, are recruited from underclassmen, eighth grade girls and freshmen. They set up counters, aid in preparation of foods, wait on customers, serve food and wash dishes. Miss Helen Farrankop, in charge of finances, is cashier.

Yesterday 60 to 70 boys and girls were cafeteria customers and enjoyed the hot lunch served from 11:50 a. m. to 12:15 p. m. The menu is a satisfying one, there is daily change and all food is wonderfully cooked and served.

Here is Monday's bill of fare: Creole soup, hot gingerbread and butter, milk and apples. For Tuesday: tomato soup, fried apples, whole wheat bread, hot chocolate, gingerbread with whipped cream, milk and apples. For Wednesday: tomato rice fondue, baking powder biscuits and honey, chocolate cup cakes, cocoa, whole wheat bread and butter, milk and apples.

Fondue, as explained by Miss Filk, is a dish made of rice, eggs and tomatoes, garnished with a strip of bacon. Rice is three-quarters of the dish. The fondue tastes delicious and we know, for we had the pleasure of visiting the cafeteria at the noon hour.

The cafeteria sells its food at bare cost. A pupil can get a hot dish and drink for ten cents. All high school pupils and the grades in the high school and teachers, if they desire, are eligible to take advantage of cafeteria service. In its conduct no waste is permitted, said Miss Filk. Pupils sign up the day before or at the least give notice several hours in advance of their desire for lunch, so that Miss Filk and her workers know exactly how many portions to prepare. Wednesday, for instance, there was a last minute rush of 15 boys and girls, who having given no previous notice, could not be given service.

The boys and girls at lunchtime are largely from rural sections and from homes some distance from the high school. After consuming their lunch and resting for a period, there is a general exodus for the gymnasium where each is anxious to get a hand on a basketball.

The kitchen equipment is very good. There is a large eight-burner gas range with two ovens; a two-compartment scullery sink; large kitchen table with many drawers and shelves; large pantry with all necessary shelves; dishes of all kinds.

"We try to have a vegetable of some kind and milk as part of every lunch," said Miss Filk. "We use the purest food obtainable, the best butter, lard, etc."

The kitchen equipment carries no coffee urn, but it's not noticed, for the pupils prefer milk, cocoa or chocolate. Tables seat four. To come and visit the cafeteria at the noon hour is an interesting sight and reveals the fact that another innovation at the high school is working very satisfactorily and with the greatest efficiency.

The great argument during lunch hour while conversing with Miss Filk was based on spinach. Some children have a natural aversion to spinach. Would a spinach dish be of universal appeal? The writer, who just dotes on spinach, was willing to pay for any spinach which may be overplus and to eat it, too, leaving the cafeteria carefree and in no such worried state as the present federal farm board which is so loaded up on wheat that every elevator is bursting its sides.

Of course, to hear a recital of a menu just sounds like so much prepared food. But when you consider that garnishing the lunch is the personality and cooperative spirit and contagious good humor of the managing chef and director of home training, Miss Filk, you realize that the cafeteria at the high school is a place that just radiates good cheer and helpfulness and comes close to the finest example of home cooking one has ever tasted.

THE school board down at Starbuck has sent out warnings to all business houses in that village that they will not countenance the sale of cigarettes or tobaccos in any form to students in their school and that prosecution will follow if the warning is not heeded. They also warn parents that if they do not co-operate with the school board, boys caught smoking will be expelled from school. Starbuck's problem is a general one all over this country.—Clarissa Independent.

THE Park Rapids Community club is gathering fish for a display to influence tourist travel. The collection will include a muskie, wall-eyed pike, large mouth black bass, small mouth bass, crappie, bluegill, sunfish, speckled trout and a brown trout.

CHAPTER XLII

His mood was the wrong one for her purpose, thought Shirley. She wanted him in the friendly, practical mood in which he had helped her choose the mosquito nets.

"I borrowed Monsieur Stavros' car and must return it as soon as possible," she explained. "He has just been to my house—"

"One moment, I beg!" interrupted Maurois and rang a bell. When the Armenian butler appeared he gave an order in Greek which Shirley did not understand.

When the butler had left he turned to Shirley.

"The car is already on its way back to Stavros," he explained.

"Oh! gasped Shirley. "But—"

"My cars are at your service," interrupted Maurois.

Shirley knew a feeling of helplessness. She could not very well run out of the room and tell Stavros' chauffeur that he must wait. The streets were definitely unsafe at that time of night. But of course Maurois would order his car as soon as she asked him.

She sank back on a chair and took a cup of coffee from the tray which was handed to her.

"You do not find the room hot?" asked Maurois.

"It is delightfully cool in here."

"It is fifty-five degrees," said Maurois. "Outside, it is probably seventy."

By moving this lever which you see at my right hand, I could reduce the temperature to twenty degrees in about five minutes. I told you once that my house fascinates me. This room is surrounded with a miniature gold-storage plant. It was an idea I came across in India. . . ."

Shirley was not listening. She had a very definite suspicion that Maurois knew she had come to ask a favor and intended to make her ask it in his own time. His manner, too, was very unusual.

It was a long, rambling anecdote about the gold-storage plant, and it was not his habit to tell anecdotes. It must have been an hour, she judged, before he gave her an opportunity to speak. When it came she was quick to seize it.

"Monsieur Maurois, I am in great trouble and I came here to-night to know if you would help me," she began, then hurriedly gave him the facts of her interview with Stavros.

"He says he must dispatch the order for the withdrawal of the troops at midnight tonight—unless he receives a message from you that you will confirm his statement to the Government," she finished.

"Poor old Stavros!" said Maurois. "He is very easily flustered. Fear is the dominant force in this unhappy country."

"I thought that as nothing is apparently required but just your agreeing with him that there is the danger of the comitadjis swooping down upon Alan and his workmen—I thought that as you have been so extremely kind to us, Monsieur Maurois, you might be willing to write him the letter or whatever it is he wants," pleaded Shirley. "He made it quite clear that a word from you would be enough."

"Let me see, now, there is no telegraphic communication there," said Maurois thoughtfully. "It means that he will send a man on a motorcycle—and the troops will march at dawn."

"Yes, yes, unless you prevent them," cut in Shirley. "Monsieur Maurois, it is extremely difficult to ask a favor from one who has already done so much—"

"Dear lady, to me it is the merest trifle—the writing of a letter," said Maurois, rising.

"Then you will do it?" she cried eagerly.

He smiled and came toward her. "You know I will do it, little one."

The endearment fell upon her like something physical. She saw him, as if through a mist, coming across the hearth towards her. What did he mean when he called her "little one?" Whatever he meant—he was going to save Alan from the comitadjis. Surely nothing else in the world mattered.

"It is nearly ten o'clock and we must move quickly," he was saying. "We will go to the other room and telephone Stavros and he shall have his letter from me in the morning."

"Will you thank me for grasping my happiness?" he countered. "I said sharply, and instantly he released her.

"Ten thousand pardons!" exclaimed Maurois. "It is a mistake to which my sex is unfortunately prone."

"I blame myself," cut in Shirley. "—"

"I beg you will not do that," interrupted Maurois. "Let us agree that we have—each—miscalculated. Each of us wanted something. I wanted a little romance; you wanted to protect—your investments. Each of us is disappointed. An exchange of condolences, Madame."

Shirley did not miss the subtle insult in the allusion to her "investments." Maurois had seen that Alan did not love her and had concluded that she could have no feeling for Alan. It did not matter. Maurois was a huckster who had tried to buy her. It only remained to forget him.

She bowed, then picked up her cloak. He turned his back and left her standing alone in the room.

She looked at her wrist. The clock showed ten minutes past eleven.

"You are making an absurd mistake, Monsieur Maurois," she said, sharply.

MERRIFIELD

E. F. Niles returned to Washington last week, where he is working for a construction company.

Marvie Cleveland is moving into an apartment at the Hollingsworth home. His auction sale at his farm will occur Tuesday.

A birthday party was given for Mrs. Albert Christensen Saturday evening. Those attending all reported a good time.

Grandma Hazelton returned Saturday from Excelsior after spending the winter with her son there.

A number of Merrifield citizens are trapping rats at the Mississippi river. Others are engaged at the various lakes.

Mrs. Clate Hollingsworth attended the funeral of her uncle at Pillager Friday.

The Farm Bureau meeting was held at Taylor's Friday instead of Keller's as they have all been sick with the flu the past week.

The flu is making a round trip on Merrifield folks.

Naomi Cleveland will attend the Merrifield school for the balance of this term.

IDEAL

The Ideal ladies aid will be entertained April 2 by Mrs. E. J. Houge.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Houge, Alice Houge and Charles Olson attended the party at the N. Evenson home Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Houge, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Olson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Anton Monson and family and Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Hartwig, Roy and Grace attended the P. T. A. and pie social at Jenkins Friday evening.

Miss Anna Dano spent the week end with her sister, Mrs. Wesley Strassburg at Norriandy resort.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Houge were Sunday visitors at the P. H. Hartwig home.

Mr. and Mrs. Orville Aas were Sunday callers at the home of their folks, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Houge.

Miss Clara Boe spent Sunday with her grandma, Mrs. H. Moe.

Quite a few from this community attended the dance in Jenkins Saturday night.

Little Helen Hanson has been on the sick list the past few days.

The Pastor Says:

Many hear the call to preach, but few hear the call to prepare. . . . In the old economical days, ladies made a single complexion last them a lifetime, and mere girls in their teens managed to keep themselves in the pink of condition with no expense whatever for plucking materials.—John Andrew Holmes.

New York, March 27.—Listeners tonight who are able to tune in on station CFCA, Toronto, or any member of the Canadian chain broadcasting the play by play account of the Allan Cup finals hockey match at 9 p. m., will hear every detail of the match between Port Arthur and Montreal for the senior amateur championship.

Bone Needles Once Used

There is no definite history of the genesis of the needle. Chaucer mentions a silver needle in 1366. In prehistoric times they used bones, either of birds or fish.

8 CAGE TEAMS AS RESTLESS AS RACE HORSES AT TAPE

CONTESTING FOR CHAMPIONSHIP OF THE STATE

MOORHEAD AND WELLS WILL MEET AT 3 O'CLOCK THIS AFTERNOON

FIRST CLASH AT UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA FIELD HOUSE

By HILLIER KRIEGBAUM
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Minneapolis, Minn., March 27.—As restless as race horses at the tape, eight high school basketball teams today waited the whistle that would call them into their first contest in the 1936 state championship tournament.

Moorhead, defending champions, and Wells will meet at 3 P. M. this afternoon in the University of Minnesota gymnasium in the first clash of the tournament.

Chisholm and Redwood Falls will meet at 4 P. M. while tonight's games will see Appleton playing Red Wing and Columbia Heights against Mechanic Arts, St. Paul.

All the teams except Red Wing arrived in town yesterday and most of them practiced on the tournament floor late yesterday or last night.

Two protests against the ages of players were found invalid by the tournament managing committee and the teams will go into play with their regular line-ups.

Early ticket sales indicated that all attendance records will be broken at this year's tournament, officials said. A large delegation from Red Wing is expected to see their local team play tonight. Columbia Heights' supporters to the extent of 1,000 are scheduled to clamor for victory while 2,000 St. Paulites are behind the Mechanic Arts five.

BOTTLERS TAKE TWO FROM STARS

CAMELS DEFEAT MOOSE IN TWO; ELIDE ROLLS 570 FOR EVENING'S HIGH TOTAL

Braino Beverages maintained their tie with Study Club by winning two games from the All Stars last evening. The All Stars won the first game by 20 pins on a 793 count. The Bottling Works won the second game and in a hard fought battle came out on top by six pins in the last game, although Elide piled up a 213 game and McKinley 182. Elide with 570 was high bowler of the evening. Rowell with 503 was high for Braino Beverages.

The Camels with a four-man team defeated the Moose two games. The Moose won the first but dropped the second by 4 pins and the last game by 23 pins. DeRoche with 194 and Ohm with 189 won the second game while Pratt with 206 was responsible for the last win. DeRoche and Pratt made over 500 with 523 and 521 totals. Miller rolled high for the Moose.

JAIL LAKE

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Glover helped at the Leon Glover home Saturday as his wife was on the sick list.

Fred Hundley purchased a 1929 Ford sedan from Kater-Iensen last week. The public auction held at the John Grover farm Wednesday was well attended.

Muskrat season is opened at last! But the weather is not very favorable. The free show held in Pine River Friday night was well attended.

Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Kuffman returned to Den Countrymen's at Big Bay Lake. They spent the winter with his parents, the William Huffmans.

The Leon Glover family moved over to his mothers, Mrs. Martha Glover. Carlton and Harold Tollefsrud are busy hauling their potatoes to Pine River before the muskrat season opened.

Orman Stanley is cutting pulp wood for L. C. Glover.

Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Huffman and children also Glorine Glover visited at the L. Glover home.

Miss Glorine Glover called on her grandmother, Mrs. Martha Glover Friday. She is laid up with rheumatism in her knee. She is slowly recovering.

Arthur Bangston spent last week with home folks. He is employed at St. Cloud as a bookkeeper.

Glenn Glover done some decorating at the Barney Bangston home Tuesday.

The Four Cornered Benevolent society met Thursday at the P. Van Kempen home. All members were present and a delicious dinner was served by the hostess.

Dr. Rothgarn was a visitor in this vicinity Thursday.

CHICAGO MAN TAKES COUNT IN 54 SECONDS

DURING THAT TIME TRAFTON TUMBLED TWICE FOR SHORT COUNTS

SWUNG ONCE AT CARNERA, BUT MISSED THE MASSIVE PRIMO

Kansas City, Mo., March 27.—(U.P.)—Enriched by several thousand dollars, Primo Carnera and his circus of ring experts were en route for Denver today.

Carnera and his ring companions left here last night, 30 minutes after the mountain man had knocked out George Trafton, Chicago professional football player, his ring opponent.

The Chicago heavyweight fighter took the count 54 seconds after he entered the ring. During that time he tumbled to the mat twice for short counts, swung once at the ponderous Primo and missed, and then dived for the mat after being battered several times by Carnera's rights and lefts.

For his services Carnera received 55 per cent of the $15,000 paid by 8,600 ring fans to see the exhibit.

Mr. Trafton received $2,000 for his appearance.

MIDGET WOLGAST NO CHAMPION IN NEW YORK

Philadelphia, March 27.—(U.P.)—Midget Wolgast is recognized in New York and Philadelphia as world featherweight boxing champion but may not be allowed to defend his title in New York over the championship route.

Wolgast was approved as champion yesterday by the Pennsylvania commission but it was revealed that the champion is only 19.

The New York commission has a rule prohibiting athletes under 21 from boxing more than six rounds. Wolgast won his title in a 15-round bout with Black Bill of Cuba at New York last Friday.

BLIND LAKE

Nils Anderson helped dress three hogs for Fred McKee last Wednesday.

L. O. Fick and son left last Thursday for Dakota.

Harry McKee and his father made a trip to town on Wednesday evening. Quite a number from out this way attended the Pine River community rally held Friday afternoon and evening of last week.

J. Dauber attended the business meeting of the creamery last Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Robideau were Brainerd visitors last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Day of Ponto Lake visited at the Nils Anderson home from Saturday afternoon until Sunday.

The E. Peterson and Johnson families called at the Julius Erickson home on Sunday afternoon to hear their radio.

Roy Hardy and family visited at the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hildebrand and Mr. and Mrs. Anson Beals on Sunday.

Five New Song Hits!

When "Chasing Rainbows," new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer all-talking musical romance featuring Bessie Love and Charles King, opens today at the Paramount theatre, five new song hits will be heard.

The new songs are "Everybody Tap," "Happy Days Are Here Again" and "Lucky Me, Loveable You," by Milton Ager and Jack Yellen; "Love Ain't Nothing But the Blues," by Lew Alter and Joe Goodwin; and "My Dynamic Personality," by Fred Fisher, George Ward and Reggie Montgomery.

Unromantic Friendship

A platonic friendship is a form of friendship from which the element of romance is wholly absent. It is named for Plato, who depicted such a relationship.

PLATTE LAKE

Two weeks ago Mrs. L. Wohl was to the Cities to see her daughter Edna who was in the hospital there with inflammatory rheumatism. After a week's stay both returned home. We are glad to hear that Edna is feeling considerably better. We hope she will soon be well again.

Last Sunday night the Magnuson family visited at the L. Wohl home; and on Monday night the following families called: Bert Bower's, Mahle's, and Heidtke's. Edna ought to be well soon now.

In the last weeks two new families made their homes in Platte Lake; we welcome them. We were glad to see them at divine services Sunday. We are informed that a third family will locate soon in the neighborhood of Johnson's and Paulson's.

Some trappers reported having had good luck; others not so good; reason for the latter: "Too many trappers."

Recently a baby (boy or girl we were not informed) arrived to make its home at Mr. and Mrs. Pete Miller of Maple Grove.

There will be holy Lenten services at the Platte Lake church on Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

"Ashamed of Jesus that dear Friend: On Whom our hopes of heaven depend? No! when I blush—be this my shame: That I do not revere His Name."

Pugilism's Pet Names

By HARDIN BURNLEY

F. G. SARDINIAS
THE NOM-DE-GUERRE
"KID CHOCOLATE" FROM
"LITTLE CHOCOLATE" DIXON.

Jack SHARKEY.

"ORIGINALLY JOSEF CUCKOSCHAY, HE ADOPTED THE RING NAME OF SHARKEY, MADE FAMOUS BY TOM AND LITTLE JACK."

YOUNG CORBETT 3RD (ALIAS RALPH GIORDANO), SPORTS ONE OF THE MOST ILLUSTRIOUS OF RING NAMES.

GANS, DEMPSEY, LEONARD... ALL FAMOUS RING MONICKERS!

THE SPORT BUG.

CORBETT, Gans, Nelson, Jackie Fields, welter champ. Corbett the Third is surely a comer. And, of course, that other Young Corbett (the late William Rothwell), who knocked out Terry McGovern for the world's feather crown, was a star of the first magnitude.

The Gans namesakes—notably, "Baby Joe," "Allentown Joe," and "Panama Joe"—were above average pugs, but only in rare flashes did any of them even approach the true championship class of the Baltimore "Old Master."

The shade of Stanley Ketchel must shiver with that of Gans as from a celestial rhapsody he has watched the boys who borrowed his fighting name. The current in an over-weight bout with Steve Ketchel is a promising youngster, and Al Ketchel, Connecticut's "Yankee Boy" of a decade and a half ago, was not bad, but the rest of the clout clan Ketchel "caught it" in the ring. Jack Dempsey took his nom de guerre from the immortal middleweight of that name and he added much to its lustre. Other Dempseys have been but a motley of mediocrities. The Sharkeys—old Tom, little Jack and the current big Jack—make that name stand out.

As evidence, perhaps, of how the popularity of fight champions lives after them in the form of names, after that a thorough search of the records reveals only ONE "Young Gene Tunney." Selah!

The meeting of the school board last night was largely for the purpose to clean up and to get caught up in business. The approval of minutes went back to January of this year.

Provision was made for the purchase of trays for the use of the auditorium were passed upon. A few of the details in connection with the payment for help in the rental of the auditorium were adjusted.

The committee on rules governing use of the auditorium made a partial report and was given further time.

The apportioning of insurance on the high school along co-insurance lines covering fire and tornado was made among the various agencies of the city. This was discussed and weighed at great length and was finally voted upon by ballot.

ESDON

The weather Saturday evening looks like we would have winter again.

Mrs. Coddington spent a few days last week with Mrs. R. J. Maghan.

Phil Isle did some butchering for John Veit last Monday.

The boys from Esdon are real busy trapping muskrats. It was pretty hard for some of them to wait until twelve o'clock March 20.

The ladies aid met with Mrs. Workman last Thursday. A delicious dinner was served at noon. The day was enjoyed very much.

Dorothy Elmore has been on the sick list the past week. She returned to school Friday.

Miss Florella Mathison spent Saturday evening and part of Sunday in Brainerd with her sister.

Mr. and Mrs. John Pearson were Brainerd visitors Saturday.

Mrs. John Veit took Mr. and Mrs. August Veit down to their daughters place Thursday, where Mrs. August Veit will take care of her daughter Mary, who had a baby girl Wednesday evening.

James Coffield returned to Brainerd Thursday evening from St. Paul.

A party was given at Mrs. Bissitt's Saturday evening. The evening was spent in playing games. A lovely lunch was served at midnight. We all wish to thank Mrs. Bissitt for the good time.

The Mathison family was invited to Brainerd for Sunday dinner.

The neighbors are sorry to hear that one of Able Christianson's horses slipped and broke its leg.

Miss Virginia Hammett spent Sunday with the Coffield girls.

ROOSEVELT

Arch and Earl Coffield were Brainerd business callers Tuesday.

The Scandal Brothers from Minneapolis held a vaudeville show at Pine Center for a week. The last night they had a woman's nailing contest.

Mrs. Will Fahnesnik got the prize, a 15 piece set of beautiful dishes.

Several from Esdon attended the auction sale at Clarence Bellevue.

Lorna Cooley spent the week end at her home in Roosevelt.

Eather Gallagher was a guest at Mrs. Alex Cash's Sunday.

Ernest Brand had the misfortune spraining his ankle and has to use crutches to get around with.

Archie Coffield and Will Fahnesnik were out dragging the town road.

Among those that were callers in Brainerd the week end were Arch and Earl Coffield, Mrs. H. Mangold, Esther Gallagher, Ernest Brand, Mervin Edwards and Frank Groshan.

Lorna and Bernice Cooley visited at the home of Miss Anna Mae Coffield Saturday afternoon.

Joe Edwards called at the Coffield home Saturday evening.

The attendance Sunday at Sunday school was 34 present.

The Modern Woodmen will give their pie social and dance at Pine Center March 29. Everybody is welcome, ladies are asked to bring a pie.

Irvin Chrysler called at Archie Coffield's Sunday evening.

Will Fahnesnik was a business caller in Brainerd Wednesday.

Leslie Cooley is working at the saw mill.

Floyd Coffield started working for Irvin Chrysler of Platte Lake.

Relief from Gas Stomach Pains Dizziness

The doctors tell us that 90 per cent of all sickness is due to stomach and bowel troubles. You can't be well if your digestion is bad; you are likely to get sick unless you relish food and digest it properly.

Tanlac has a wonderful record as a relief from digestive troubles, even those of years' standing.

Local people, many of whom you know, are highly endorsing Tanlac. For example, Mrs. Ellen White says: "For years I suffered from indigestion. I got no relief from anything until I took Tanlac. After my fourth bottle, I feel like a new person and have a fine appetite."

If you suffer from gas, pains in the stomach or bowels, dizziness, nausea, constipation, or torpid liver; if you have no appetite, can't sleep and are nervous and all run down, you need Tanlac. It is good, pure medicine, made of roots, herbs and barks. Get a bottle from your druggist today. Money back if it doesn't help you. Accept no substitute.

NORTHERN PACIFIC DECLARES ITS USUAL DIVIDEND

St. Paul, March 27.—(U.P.)—The board of directors of the Northern Pacific Railway company in their New York meeting declared the usual quarterly dividend of $1.25 payable May 1 to stockholders on record April 10, the company's St. Paul headquarters announced today.

The Crow Wing County Garden Flower society will compete in the National Flower Show which opens at the Auditorium, Minneapolis, Saturday and continues for a week.

The society with headquarters at Brainerd will be entered in the Shadowbox class and will compete with other societies in the northwest. A. L. Alexander will represent the society at the show while a number of other members are expected to attend. Officers of the society for the ensuing year are:

President—Dr. G. I. Badeaux.

Vice President—A. L. Alexander.

Secretary—Mrs. Mabel C. Carmichael.

Treasurer—Mrs. C. A. Nelson.

With each membership to the society will be given this year a subscription to "Better Homes and Gardens," a home beautification magazine.

ENJOYABLE CARD PARTY

Mooseheart Legion Entertains Last Evening, 12 Tables of 500 Played

The Mooseheart Legion card party given last evening at the Moose hall proved a very enjoyable affair. Twelve tables of 500 were played with the men's head prize being won by Frank Roberts and the ladies head prize by Mrs. McComas. The men's consolation was given Roger Callahan and the ladies to Mrs. A. Peterson.

The committee in charge of the affair were Genevieve Girard, general chairman, Mrs. L. N. Hanson, Mrs. L. Johnson, Mrs. L. Weston, Mrs. L. Weisman, Mrs. Maud Colman, Mrs. Lucy Wilson and Mrs. Olson.

Refreshments followed the playing.

SHADY POINT

Well, the muskrat trapping season opened last Thursday and is going full blast. While they are getting quite a number of rats, they are not as plentiful as they seemed to be.

Henry Bromberg and son Joe visited with John Carlson and Helmes Kolsbun one evening last week.

Clarence Lockwood sawed wood at the Otto F. Wendt home one day last week.

Axel Peterson hauled home the last of the wood put up by Henry Bromberg. Sleighing being bad, they hauled the last few loads by wagon.

Miss Alvina Raihl and Eddie Raihl visited with Mr. and Mrs. Louis Wiedl one evening last week.

Henry Bromberg and son Joe were guests at the John Fitzpatrick home Sunday, March 16.

We are very sorry to hear that Ted Wolhart lost five stacks of hay through a fire near his place last Saturday.

Helmer Kolsbun and John Carlson visited with Mr. and Mrs. Louis Wiedl one evening last week, playing Wisconsin whist and enjoying the radio.

Nevin Maust entertained a number of his friends Sunday, March 16, the occasion being his birthday. He was given several nice gifts by some of those who attended. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Busby and family, Sherman Maust, Orval Maust, Hershel Maust, Doris and Jane Maust, Bertha, Katie, Ruth and Joe Bromberg, Carl and Irvin Britton, Vernon and Allen Wolhart, Dallas Gates, Maxine, Leonard, Carl, Raymond and Dorothy Kleinschmidt.

The afternoon was spent playing games, after which Orval Maust took the bunch out for a joy ride. Whoopee! A delicious lunch was then served, which was thoroughly enjoyed by everyone.

We are glad to hear that Ben Leonard, who was on the sick list is getting along fine.

Everybody has been busy lately burning their meadows, pastures etc. Being able to burn without a permit until April 1, has been quite an inducement and they have all been taking advantage of it.

We are sorry to hear that Mrs. Wm. Raihl is on the sick list again with a severe cold.

The Wm. Morcomb family motored to Brainerd last week, combining pleasure with business. Returning, they stopped at the Hermann Kleinschmidt home, where dinner was served and the afternoon was spent socially.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Peterson visited with Mr. and Mrs. Louis Wiedl last Saturday evening, playing several games of 500.

Wallace Smart ground feed for some of the neighbors one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Wiedl visited at the Wm. Morcomb home one day last week.

Wm. Morcomb, Sr., of Winona, who was up here on a visit to his son, Wm. Jr., went back home after a visit of four or five days. At the time he was up here, he said that there had not been any snow in Winona for some time.

It never rains, but what it pours, is about the way it is with the George Morcomb family, who have certainly been hard hit with sickness this winter. Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Morcomb have both had a touch of the flu, and their daughter Mrs. Babcock, who is staying at their place, has also been down with a dose of the flu.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smart visited with his folks, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Smart last Sunday.

Alfred Anderson helped with chores at the Geo. Morcomb home last Saturday.

Helmer Kolsbun was a business visitor at Brainerd one day last week.

A few of the neighbors gathered at the C. F. Maust home one day last week, to extend congratulations to Mrs. Maust, who celebrated her birthday.

Charles Babcock, son-in-law of Geo. Morcomb, is at present in Butte, Mont., where he will probably accept a position in a meat market, as he was formerly a butcher by trade. His family will follow as soon as he gets located.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Moody have purchased the small Ford truck formerly owned by Ben Leonard and expect to overhaul it shortly, getting it ready for next summer.

Henry Kleinschmidt was a Brainerd visitor one day last week.

Henry Bromberg and son Joe and daughter Bertha visited with Mr. and Mrs. Louis Wiedl one evening last week, being entertained with 500 and radio.

How about the robins, folks? Has anybody seen them yet? We have seen blackbirds and crows, and killdeer, and snipes, and ducks, but no robins. Where are they?

Romance in Groceries

Have you ever considered the romance of so prosaic an institution as your grocery store? The Farm Journal cites a casual survey of a small store in a remote valley of Utah, where it was found that the stock came from 38 states and 14 foreign countries. The case is not unusual. In this day of rapid transportation the whole world labors so that you may eat.

Extending the welcome this afternoon, Miss Florence Swanson, president of the Brainerd Young People's Church Federation said in part:

"Friends, I deeply appreciate the honor I have at this time to bid you welcome to this conference. As I look to your faces and realize you have gathered here from all parts of the state, it is not only pleasure but an inspiration to bid each one of you a hearty welcome to this conference. I express the sentiment of the local young people, the pastors, and Sunday school workers as well as the citizens of Brainerd.

"You will look forward to this conference with great expectation, in fact we could not help but do so because with the speakers we are to have—among the foremost in the country."

Miss Swanson extended a further welcome to the delegates to spend their vacation in the land of 10,000 lakes and attend the Brainerd churches on Sundays while enjoying the outdoors.

"We are gathered here in the presence of God, and as it were in the upper air. Accepting Christ we are truly, 'Pilots of The Upper Air,' she said.

William George of Mankato, who is presiding, responded very fittingly and accepted the kind invitation to again visit the "city of pines."

The conference leaders as introduced are: Rev. Homer J. Armstrong, pastor of the Baptist-Disciples church of Duluth; Dr. R. W. Dowden, executive secretary of the Ramsey County Sunday School Association, St. Paul; Miss Margaret Burnett, director of Religious Education, Macalester Presbyterian church, St. Paul; Miss Jennie Doidge, Young People's superintendent of the Ramsey Sunday School Association, St. Paul; Donald Farley, minister of music and organist, Hamline Methodist Episcopal church, St. Paul; R. MUELLER CABINET IN GERMANY RESIGNS

Berlin, March 27.—(UP)—The cabinet of Chancellor Herman Mueller resigned today.

The cabinet and leaders of the parties which supported it in the reichstag had failed to compromise differences on the government's program for financial reform and on the budget.

Chancellor Mueller's coalition cabinet, formed with the support of the social democratic, center, people's democratic and Bavarian people's parties in June, 1928, had been in almost continual danger of defeat for months.

The reparations settlements had caused wide dissatisfaction but more recently domestic financial issues weakened the government's support.

Rev. Roy E. Olson Named Chaplain at State School

Northfield, Minn., March 27.—(UP)—Minnesota headquarters of the Norwegian Lutheran church today said Rev. Roy E. Olson, St. Cloud, has been appointed Protestant chaplain at the St. Cloud state school for boys. The appointment is effective April 1.

SEEK AUTHORIZATION OF 9-FOOT CHANNEL

Washington, March 27.—(UP)—A group of Iowa and Minnesota congressmen asked the house rivers and harbors committee today to include authorization for a 9-foot channel in the Mississippi river from St. Louis to Minneapolis in the forthcoming rivers and harbors bill.

NOTICE

There will be a meeting of the Evergreen Cemetery association on the First Tuesday in April, at the office of the Judge of Probate at the court house at 8 o'clock.

NOTICE

Dog licenses are due on April 1 and delinquent May 1. Male dogs, $2, female dogs, $3. A general checkup of all dogs will be made after May 1 and owners who have not then paid licenses will be subject to a fine of not more than $10.

BRAINERD WOMAN MURDERED

MRS. WM. ZODROW STABBED IN YARD OF IRONTON HOME

OLE SAUGE, 45, IRONTON, HELD
BY AUTHORITIES FOLLOWING
TRAGEDY EARLY TODAY

JEALOUSY BLAMED FOR CRUEL
SLASHING; WOMAN DIES IN WOODSHED

Mrs. William Zodrow, 33 years old, formerly Catherine Shields of Brainerd, who had moved to Iron-ton with her husband from Brainerd one year ago, was brutally murdered by stab-bing at 12:50 A. M. today and her body found in the back yard of the home of Mrs. Edward Johnson, 1215 First Street, Iron-ton, after she had left a car with two men who had taken her and Mrs. Opal Glenn there from Mrs. Glenn's home.

Ole Sauge, 45, a miner employed in Armour No. 2 mine, Iron-ton, has been placed under arrest by county au-thorities and is being grilled.

Sauge is reported by the authorities to have partially confessed the mur-der inasmuch that he quarreled with Mrs. Zodrow and struck her with a knife. Authorities expect a complete confession of the crime by Sauge when he is brought to the county jail here late this afternoon, following the in-quest at Crosby.

Jealousy on the part of Sauge, who was reported to have been paying Mrs. Zodrow attention, was blamed for the deed.

While the horrible tragedy was en-acted Mr. Zodrow and his six children were asleep at their home at 424 Oak Street, Iron-ton.

Mrs. Zodrow died in the woodshed built in at the rear of the Johnson home, a humble dwelling. The back yard of the home was red and black with blood where Mrs. Zodrow had been shrieking after the knife used by the attacker had severed an artery in her right limb about six inches above the knee.

The theory of the murder as be-lieved by the authorities on question-ing of parties involved is that Sauge who was in the Johnson home and waiting for Mrs. Zodrow to return, had left the house on hearing a car drive up, had argued with the men in the car, and had ran after Mrs. Zo-drow when she attempted to leave the car to enter the home.

Sauge claimed that Mrs. Zodrow struck him. It is believed by au-thorities that irrespective of whether she did or not, an altercation took place and that Sauge slipped on the ice near the house, and in a fit of rage took a knife from his pocket and dug it into the victim's leg.

Mrs. Johnson arose from a sick bed, sick from nervous prostration caused by the horrible happenings of the night, to tell her story to authorities this morning.

She told a disjointed story of trying to save the dying woman by wrapping a towel around her leg as a tourniquet and of such excitement in the home that few knew what actually hap-pened. She said that the woman died without speaking or telling who struck her and that her death came only a few minutes after she heard her scream.

Mrs. Johnson claimed in her story that Sauge was in the house when the woman was murdered, that he rushed outside when he heard her scream and carried her into the woodshed.

Mrs. Johnson, who still wore the same dress she had on last night and with spots of blood covering it, said that Opal (Mrs. Glenn) came into the house and replied to Sauge's ques-tioning that Mrs. Zodrow was in the car outside and would be in soon.

Tracing the happenings leading up to the crime, County Attorney Arthur J. Sullivan and Sheriff Claus A. The-orin learned today:

That Mrs. Zodrow had left her home about 8 P. M. and had gone to the home of Mrs. Johnson where Mrs. Ivy Nevela, a neighbor of Mrs. Zodrow, had joined them a few minutes later.

That Mrs. Zodrow and Mrs. Nevela had left the Johnson home about 10 P. M., walking.

That Mrs. Nevela had left Mrs. Zo-drow and the latter had continued on her way to the home of Opal Glenn, Mrs. Nevela going to her home.

That two men, William Haugen of Iron-ton, and Louis Raymond, of Deer-wood, were at the Glenn home and offered to take Mrs. Glenn and Mrs. Zodrow over to the Johnson home.

That the party of four had arrived at the Johnson home and Mrs. Glenn had entered the Johnson home leaving Mrs. Zodrow in the car with the two men.

The arrival of the party of four at the Johnson home was clearly traced by the authorities. The happenings then have not been cleared up to the satisfaction of the authorities although the theory is expounded and substan-tiated partially by Sauge that Sauge left the house in heated rage to see that Mrs. Zodrow left the car immedi-ately.

Over in the Zodrow home today Mr. Zodrow related grimly of his wife leav-ing the home early in the evening and replying to little Alice's questioning, "You won't be gone long, will you mother?" "No, mother's only going out for a little while."

In the home the children gathered in a circle to look with startled faces at the visitors who came and asked so many questions.

There was Margaret, 15, who will become the "little mother" to the children and who was already prepar-ing food for the dinner at which their mother would not be present. Mar-garet who through her maiden years until the children are older, must re-main at home to watch the kiddies and see that they wash their faces be-fore going to school.

There was Walter, 13, the only boy of the family, who must play the part of the big little man and protect his sisters.

And there were Leona, 11, Alice, 9, Marian, 7, and Evelyn, 5, who realized only in a vague way at present what tragedy had come into their lives, who watched strangers sadly and who cried a little when they thought of their mother who "wasn't coming home again."

There was the father and husband of the dead woman who had come to Iron-ton to work in the mines after living 30 years in Brainerd, having at-tended the Brainerd schools.

"Yes, Brainerd, is my home. I worked in the boiler shops of the N. P. there. Katherine has her family there. She was raised in Brainerd and we were married there 16 years ago," Mr. Zodrow said in telling of his wife's life.

"Yes, her father died a year ago in St. Paul where he had been taken to the hospital after getting his arm smashed at the N. P. shops," he said. "Her mother, Mrs. Jane Shields, lives at 1207 Norwood Street."

Mrs. Zodrow leaves also four sisters, Mrs. Clarence Faucalt of Duluth, Mrs. Margaret Kittleson of St. Paul, Agnes Shields who is a student in her senior year at the Brainerd high school, and Miss Violet Shields of Brainerd, and three brothers, Phillip of Brainerd, Sam of Muskegon, Mich., and Jack Shields of Iron-ton.

Officers first called to the Johnson home after the tragedy were Emil Swanson and George Ridley of Iron-ton.

No deaths were reported. A few were said to be slightly injured. Destroyers and steamers were reported hurrying medicines and food to the islands.

Year 1930 Predicted to Break All Records in Mergers--Steel Merger Meeting Obstacles

MERCHANDISE, AIRCRAFT, OIL AND GAS, STEEL

OHIO LAW CALLS FOR HEAVY VOTE OF STOCKHOLDERS TO EFFECT STEEL MERGER

VAN SWERINGEN INTERESTS
MAY SEEK CONSOLIDATIONS
IN RAILROAD WORLD

By ELMER C. WALZER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, March 27.—Approach of the special meeting of Youngstown Sheet & Tube Company stockholders to vote on a merger with Bethlehem Steel Corporation to form a billion dollar company has brought out re-ports of mergers in other fields.

The year 1930 will break all records in mergers, it is predicted. Wall Street observers look for consumma-tion of the merger of Standard Oil Company of New York and Vacuum Oil Company through issuance of a clean bill in the courts, and if that consolidation should be permitted others are expected.

Today's merger possibilities includ-

1. Union of Sears, Roebuck and Gimbel Brothers. Sears Roebuck has assets of $251,849,325 and Gimbel of $67,413,802, a combination making a company with assets of $319,263,127. The two had sales of $568,088,914 in 1929.

2. United Aircraft & Transport Corporation is to take over National Air Transport. According to well-in-formed observers, United has been buying National Air Transport stock in the open market.

3. The $700,000,000 merger of Sin-clair Consolidated Oil & Gas Corpora-tion and Prairie Oil & Gas Company, temporarily suspended may still be consummated. Negotiations are be-ing resumed.

Meanwhile predictions are being made that the Bethlehem-Youngstown Sheet & Tube merger will not be ac-cepted by Youngstown stockholders. The obstacle is the Ohio law which makes necessary two-thirds vote of outstanding common stock. If the op-position masses 400,001 shares it will fall through.

It is believed that strong interests are accumulating Colorado Fuel & Iron stock preparatory to merging it with one of the big companies. Among the companies mentioned are U. S. Steel, Republic Steel Corporation and Bethlehem Steel Corporation.

Other Steel Companies with merger possibilities are Jones & Laughlin of Pittsburgh, Inland Steel of Chicago and Gulf States Steel.

Recent heavy financing by Van Sweringen railroads leads to the be-lief that they will shortly take the initiative again in trying to bring about vast consolidations in the railroad world.

ENGLISH CABINET MAY BUY DOMESTIC WHEAT CROP SOON

London, March 27.—(U.P.)—The cabinet has decided to advise adop-tion of a plan for state purchase of the domestic wheat crop, the London Daily Herald parliamentary correspondent said today.

Approval also was given, the correspondent said, to a plan for the organization of district sell-ing agencies with membership on a compulsory basis.

The cabinet further was said to have endorsed regulating by statu-te the minimum content of home-grown wheat in all flour milled in Great Britain.

FARMER-LABOR CONVENTION IN ATTACK ON G. O. P.

PREDICT THIRD PARTY WILL HAVE GREATEST SUCCESS IN STATE ELECTIONS

SENTIMENT FAVORS NOMINA-TION OF FLOYD B. OLSON FOR GOVERNOR

St. Paul, Minn., March 27.—(U.P.)—The Minnesota farmer-labor con-vention today vigorously attacked the present republican administration and predicted the third party will have its greatest success in this year's state election.

Sentiment on the convention floor appeared strongly in favor of the nom-ination of Floyd B. Olson, Hennepin county attorney, for governor. Selection of a slate for the election was not scheduled at today's sessions, how-ever.

W. W. Carss, Proctor, former con-gressman, said Minnesota voters realize that their best candidates are far-mer-laborites and predicted the third party ticket will sweep the state. He said the citizens realize clearly for the first time "the dangers of an in-visible government."

"President Hoover started out to give the farmers relief by changing the tariff. Some 21,000 tariff schedules were raised and now European coun-tries can not pay their war debts to the United States in goods. The debts never will be paid in gold."

Former Senator Magnus Johnson, Kimball, announced before the 300 delegates that he is not a candidate for any office, but shouts of "You may be before this convention ends," greet-ed him from the floor. Johnson said the farmers have "more fight in you than ever before."

Frank T. Starkey, St. Paul, secre-tary of the convention, announced resolutions will be debated and the state slate chosen tomorrow.

Among the committeemen appoint-ed was W. H. Wist of Fergus Falls to the committee on rules and order of business.

JEFFERSON CITY PENITENTIARY IN WILD FERMENT

PRISON CHAIR FACTORY WORK-ERS START VIOLENT DEMONSTRATION

400 SHIRT FACTORY WORKERS
TRY TO THROW MACHINES
OUT OF WINDOWS

By NOLEN BULLOCH
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

State Penitentiary, Jefferson City, Mo., March 27.—Mutiny swept through the ranks of shop workers in this crowded, century old prison today and turned it into an arsenal of guns and troops pitted against lines and cell blocks of sullen inmates.

Militia units, police and prison guards armed with machine and riot guns and reinforced by ready mobiliza-tion of militia aviation groups bearing bombs, stood guard over the walls and courtyard to halt any actual violence.

They prepared for a possible general rebellion a trusty said was plotted in the prisoners' demand for "better food, less work and better foremen."

Warden Leslie Rudolph commanded a small army to prevent what he said was "inevitable trouble."

Men manned machine guns in the armory and other posts overlooking the prison courtyard as 900 inmates who participated in strikes at the chair, shirt and pants shops, were marched in tense and mutinous groups back to their cells for confinement without food.

A serious outbreak was threatened shortly after noon when 750 prisoners in the dining room of the mess hall refused to come out and entered the mutiny.

At 1:50 P. M. the mutinous prisoners in the mess hall began throwing dishes and eating utensils out of the windows, smashing the panes.

The guards had cleared the court-yard completely and troopers in the armory commanded a clean sweep of the enclosure with their rifles and machine guns.

Keys to all cells and offices had been taken outside the walls as a pre-caution against a general riot and lib-eration of fellow prisoners by the leaders.

The mutinous mess hall prisoners crashed out of the windows and into the courtyard and when guards at-tempted to head them to their cells, fighting broke out. Guards clubbed the convicts viciously and a free-for-all fight ensued. It was estimated 50 prisoners were taken to the prison hos-pital, suffering cracked or badly bruised skulls.

VAST BLANKET OF SNOW COVERS MIDWEST AREA

NEW ALL TIME RECORD 19.1
INCHES OF PRECIPITATION
FALLS

STORM BROUGHT 50 MILE AN HOUR GALE, BLIZZARDS, PERIODS OF QUIET

Chicago, March 27.—(U.P.)—Man's war against nature was fought today along a serried waste of snow that covered a vast swath of the middle west with the heaviest blanket laid in a single storm since weather bu-reau records have been kept in the region.

When the last flakes fell shortly be-fore last midnight, a new all-time record of 19.1 inches of precipitation had fallen.

The snow had been practically con-tinuous for 4 hours. The storm had run the gamut of wintry tactics, em-ploying 50-mile gales, periods of calm, blinding blizzard and gentle snowfall by turns.

Wary from two days of battle to keep a fraction of its transportation facilities in operation, thousands of men in Chicago buckled into drifts under the spur of threatened food and milk shortage. Hope that the peril could be avoided and the vast business of the city kept moving mounted when the snow ceased com-ing down.

Virtually all highways were still blocked in an area bounded by Mil-waukee, Wis., Rockford, LaSalle, and Peoria, Ill., St. Louis, Mo., Toledo, O., and Detroit. Highway department crews slowly carved their way along the roads, freeing cities and villages from absolute isolation and rescuing motorists stalled in the deep snow.

Death toll of the storm in the Chi-cago region rose to 11 and the number injured as a direct result of the snow was estimated at 50.

Six were killed yesterday in or near Chicago. They were: Michael Prates, 35, laborer who fell while running for a street car; John Whalen, 65, struck by a train while shoveling snow; John Florentine, 55, who died of exhaustion after struggling through the blizzard; Henry Balenow, 54, struck by a train while blinded by snow; Michael Kur-ska, 74, who died while shoveling snow, and John Fitzgerald, 60, another victim of over exertion.

When she went to look for her two young sons, delayed by the storm, Mrs. O'Hare Foltz fell in a snowdrift near Charleston and was frozen to death. The boys found shelter at a neighbor's house.

Scarcely anyone living in the region escaped some suffering or privation. Schools in Chicago were closed until further notice and about 75 per cent of the rural schools did not open their doors.

Thousands of loop office workers ar-rived to work somewhere near on time today after two days of being an hour or several hours late. Many went to their offices from downtown hotels again, having decided not to chance the trip home and return.

Courts were tied up yesterday be-cause neither judges, witnesses nor attorneys could get there on time. Mail deliveries were reduced to two in the business districts and one in residential districts. Several hundred telephones failed in the suburbs. Power was off intermittently in scores of villages and towns in the metropolitan area.

Because the snow had lashed Lake Michigan into frenzy, turning the city's drinking water to a muddy hue, a double ratio of chlorine was ordered to guard against an epidemic of dis-ease.

Street car service in Chicago and its suburbs was far from normal de-spite the efforts of 22,000 men to clear the tracks. More than 3,000 men and five snow plows toiled in the loop to keep streets clear enough of snow and slush so automobiles and trucks could move. At least $50,000 will be needed for the loop work alone, it was esti-mated.

At principal intersections in other parts of the city, 800 men managed to keep some vehicular traffic moving. No attempt was made to clear other than main thoroughfares.

The only transportation means that had not been affected seriously was the elevated system. Tabulation re-vealed that approximately 1,000,000 persons were carried yesterday, a new record. Suburban electric and steam lines neared schedules today, after operating on a hit-or-miss basis dur-ing the worst of the storm.

Taxicab drivers were potentates in their own right. Men and women stood in the streets last night besieg-ing passing cabs to return for them when they had unloaded passengers.

Murder Gun Bought by N. Y. Cop

An inquiry was started to determine the extent of connections between members of the New York Police Department and the underworld. The inquiry was sponsored by Commissioner Whalen after it was definitely established that the double barreled machine gun used in the slaying of Frankie Dunn, beer baron of New Jersey, had been traced to Patrolman Edward Behan as its original purchaser. "Jimmy, I wish you would learn better table manners. You're a regular little pig at the table."
Deep silence on Jimmy's part. So father, in order to impress him more, added: "I say, Jimmy, do you know what a pig is?"
"Yes, sir," replied Jimmy meekly, "it's a hog's little child."

The correct Central Standard Time shows you are 10 minutes late in buying your Spring Hat

We started advertising Spring Hats the first of February. We sold a lot of hats and brought in more.

All through February, other men kept buying—we kept re-ordering—but not one word from you. Now it's getting late—we are still bringing in new shapes and we're wondering why you are not here to see them.

They're Schoble Hats—they're correct—they're reasonable—they're ready!

Just unpacked a large shipment of Bradley Sweaters for men, women and children. They are beauties and very reasonable in price.

FUNERAL RITES FOR ANTON GILBERTSON

Church Crowded With Friends as
Services Were Held on Wednesday

Anton Gilbertson passed away Saturday afternoon, following a stroke of apoplexy. He had been ill since last November.

Mr. Gilbertson was born in Oslo, Norway, Sept. 16, 1855. In 1880 he emigrated to America, coming to Minneapolis. The next year 1881 he moved to Brainerd where he has resided since.

He has continuously been employed working as foreman in the car shops, at the Northern Pacific railway shops. He received his pension four years ago.

In 1885 he married Miss Lena Anderson who survives him together with three children, Mrs. Charles W. Green of Duluth, Mrs. H. A. Smith of Iron River, Mich., and George of the U. S. S. Coghlan with headquarters at Philadelphia. He also leaves two grandchildren, one brother, E. Gilbertson of Oslo, Norway and two sisters, Mrs. Toger Peterson and Mrs. Julia Wold, both of Brainerd.

Mr. Gilbertson was well known in Brainerd for his long and faithful service to the Bethlehem Lutheran church, where throughout 45 years of membership he served as a teacher in the Sunday school, as member of the board of trustees, and later as member of the board of deacons.

He was always looked up to with great confidence as a leader in the congregation, and was instrumental in the splendid progress of the work. Mr. Gilbertson was active and interested until the last, always showing a rare loyalty, combined with youthful enthusiasm and optimism.

The church will deeply miss his loyal, consecrated efforts, but with grateful hearts, will always remember the life and deeds of this beloved member.

The funeral was held Wednesday afternoon and brought a large attendance to the church. The choir sang two numbers and Mrs. O. A. Koskinen sang a solo. Rev. J. R. Michaelson conducted the services. Floral offerings were many and very beautiful. The pallbearers were O. A. Peterson, John M. Eyr, O. D. Larson, Henry Anderson, Albert J. Ellison and Simon Anderson. There was a large attendance of the Northern Pacific Veterans Association, in which the deceased had held membership. These veterans furnished the honor guard while the body lay in state from the morning hour until the time of the funeral.

IMPROVEMENTS AT GAS PLANT

Additional Construction is to be Carried on This Spring

In August, 1924 There Were 350, Today There Are Approximately 840

Additional construction will be carried on this spring by the Northern States Power Co., at their local gas plant. A new fire-proof building is to be erected over the purification apparatus, and will be equipped with a heating system to protect the apparatus from the extreme cold.

Various other changes have been made in the plant since the Northern States Power Co. took it over, and duplicate pieces of machinery and manufacturing apparatus have been installed, and everything possible done to insure constant and continuous service.

When the Northern States Power Co. took over this property, in August 1924, there were approximately 350 customers on the lines. Today there are approximately 840, and the number is increasing steadily.

There have been two rate reductions placed in effect during this time, one in May 1925, which is now known as the standard rate, and the other in May 1929, known as the optional rate. This optional rate offers a very low figure for the use of additional appliances in your home, such as, water heaters, incinerators, refrigerators, laundry stoves, etc. Approximately 200 of the customers have availed themselves of the new and lower optional rate, and it is the hope of the company to make additional rate reductions as the volume of gas sold here increases.

The Brainerd chapter will confer the second degree on a number of candidates of both Brainerd and St. Cloud. There will be three candidates from the city.

The evening will open with a banquet at 6:30 o'clock at the Masonic hall. The degree work will follow with entertainment afterwards. It is expected about 40 from Brainerd will attend.

12 YEAR OLD LAD IN PIANO RECITAL.

Versatile Marion Eliot Newman Plays Program of Substantial Music

(Contributed)

It is obvious that relatives, friends, teachers, and former teachers of Marion Eliot Newman might be a bit indulgent in their attitude toward that lad when he was presented in piano recital by Mrs. W. A. M. Johnstone at her home Wednesday evening. But in justice to the young pianist, let it be said that the plaudits he received were rightfully his. Four years of study and effort were made manifest to the sympathetic audience, but any stranger who chanced in found himself delighted with the performance of the youthful recitalist who played a program of substantial music that gave him an opportunity to display his versatility.

A little more than 12 years of age, Marion Eliot Newman announced his own selections which ran the gamut of composers from Kuhlau to Reinhold, from Bach to MacDowell and from Brahms to Tchaikovsky, with an ease and a poise that is oftentimes lacking in older virtuosi. Then, when he had provided his audience with the necessary background, his nimble fingers ran unaffectedly over the ivory keys to produce difficult arpeggios, rhythmical cadences and mellifluous harmonies.

Lovers of technique were treated to the "Sonatina" opus 20, number 2 (Kuhlau) and to the "Impromptu," Opus 28, number 3 by Reinhold. Those who listened for expressive effects heard a rendition of Brahms' "Waltz," Opus 39, number 13, to satisfy them that an understanding of the demands of such a number was not a shortcoming in one so young as the recitalist. Perhaps this waltz was the outstanding contribution to the short but interesting program although mention should be made of the playing of MacDowell's "Woodland Sketches," particularly "From an Indian Lodge," and the charming piece by Tchaikovsky known as "The Lark's Song."

Without seeming to wax excessively enthusiastic, any would-be hinterland dunces might safely predict a future for Marion Eliot Newman should he continue his musical education. Under the able, efficient and decidedly helpful tutelage of Mrs. W. A. M. Johnstone, this young musician has advanced to the point where he can be presented in such a recital as was heard last night and can continue his progress on the high road to success, one milestone of which he now has already traversed.

DAILY SERVICES IN PASSION WEEK

Ministerial Association Adopts Program to Fittingly Observe Week

At a special meeting of the Brainerd Ministerial Association, Monday morning at the Y. M. C. A., it was decided to ask the citizens of Brainerd and the surrounding country to fittingly observe Passion Week by meeting together for services of worship each day from Monday to Friday, closing with a Friday evening service in the Presbyterian church.

The day services will be 30 minute services and will be conducted in the morning in some suitable downtown building, with different pastors speaking from day to day.

Rev. Alexander G. Patterson, Rev. T. M. Krauss and Rev. Edgar A. Vallant were appointed to serve as a committee on arrangements.

This committee met yesterday morning and appointed the following committees on Passion Week observance: Announcement, Rev. Edgar A. Vallant, Peterson and Rev. Ackesman; place of meeting, Rev. T. M. Krauss, Rev. F.

A. Kufus and Mrs. Fallquist; program, Rev. Alexander G. Patterson, Rev. N. P. Olmsted and Rev. Walter Smith.

THE WORDS on the back of the package still mean what they say. No "extras," which do not contribute to the quality of the smoke, are included in the price of Camels. Just the utmost smoke-enjoyment that modern science can put into a cigarette.

That statement was on the first package of Camels manufactured and has been on every one of the billions of Camel packages sold from that day to this. When it was first written, other cigarette manufacturers were giving away flags, pictures of actresses, pictures of ball players—almost anything that would make the smoker think he was getting something extra for his money. The makers of Camels believed the smoker wanted a cigarette sold strictly on its merits, with all of its cost put into quality—a cigarette made of such excellent tobaccos—so perfectly blended—so mellow—so fragrant—that it would win its own way.

The vast popularity of Camels is a tribute to that four-square policy.

The High School Cafeteria

THE high school cafeteria is in operation for noonday lunches and a week's work has shown the innovation is appreciated and the patronage of students and others is convincing that it is a worthwhile enterprise.

Miss Bertha Filk, home training instructor, is in charge of the cafeteria and her student helpers, five in number, are recruited from underclassmen, eighth grade girls and freshmen. They set up counters, aid in preparation of foods, wait on customers, serve food and wash dishes. Miss Helen Farrankop, in charge of finances, is cashier.

Yesterday 60 to 70 boys and girls were cafeteria customers and enjoyed the hot lunch served from 11:50 a. m. to 12:15 p. m. The menu is a satisfying one, there is daily change and all food is wonderfully cooked and served.

Here is Monday's bill of fare: Creole soup, hot gingerbread and butter, milk and apples. For Tuesday: tomato soup, fried apples, whole wheat bread, hot chocolate, gingerbread with whipped cream, milk and apples. For Wednesday: tomato rice fondue, baking powder biscuits and honey, chocolate cup cakes, cocoa, whole wheat bread and butter, milk and apples.

Fondue, as explained by Miss Filk, is a dish made of rice, eggs and tomatoes, garnished with a strip of bacon. Rice is three-quarters of the dish. The fondue tastes delicious and we know, for we had the pleasure of visiting the cafeteria at the noon hour.

The cafeteria sells its food at bare cost. A pupil can get a hot dish and drink for ten cents. All high school pupils and the grades in the high school and teachers, if they desire, are eligible to take advantage of cafeteria service. In its conduct no waste is permitted, said Miss Filk. Pupils sign up the day before or at the least give notice several hours in advance of their desire for lunch, so that Miss Filk and her workers know exactly how many portions to prepare. Wednesday, for instance, there was a last minute rush of 15 boys and girls, who having given no previous notice, could not be given service.

The boys and girls at lunchtime are largely from rural sections and from homes some distance from the high school. After consuming their lunch and resting for a period, there is a general exodus for the gymnasium where each is anxious to get a hand on a basketball.

The kitchen equipment is very good. There is a large eight-burner gas range with two ovens; a two-compartment scullery sink; large kitchen table with many drawers and shelves; large pantry with all necessary shelves; dishes of all kinds.

"We try to have a vegetable of some kind and milk as part of every lunch," said Miss Filk. "We use the purest food obtainable, the best butter, lard, etc."

The kitchen equipment carries no coffee urn, but it's not noticed, for the pupils prefer milk, cocoa or chocolate. Tables seat four. To come and visit the cafeteria at the noon hour is an interesting sight and reveals the fact that another innovation at the high school is working very satisfactorily and with the greatest efficiency.

The great argument during lunch hour while conversing with Miss Filk was based on spinach. Some children have a natural aversion to spinach. Would a spinach dish be of universal appeal? The writer, who just dotes on spinach, was willing to pay for any spinach which may be overplus and to eat it, too, leaving the cafeteria carefree and in no such worried state as the present federal farm board which is so loaded up on wheat that every elevator is bursting its sides.

Of course, to hear a recital of a menu just sounds like so much prepared food. But when you consider that garnishing the lunch is the personality and cooperative spirit and contagious good humor of the managing chef and director of home training, Miss Filk, you realize that the cafeteria at the high school is a place that just radiates good cheer and helpfulness and comes close to the finest example of home cooking one has ever tasted.

THE school board down at Starbuck has sent out warnings to all business houses in that village that they will not countenance the sale of cigarettes or tobaccos in any form to students in their school and that prosecution will follow if the warning is not heeded. They also warn parents that if they do not co-operate with the school board, boys caught smoking will be expelled from school. Starbuck's problem is a general one all over this country.—Clarissa Independent.

THE Park Rapids Community club is gathering fish for a display to influence tourist travel. The collection will include a muskie, wall-eyed pike, large mouth black bass, small mouth bass, crappie, bluegill, sunfish, speckled trout and a brown trout.

CHAPTER XLII

His mood was the wrong one for her purpose, thought Shirley. She wanted him in the friendly, practical mood in which he had helped her choose the mosquito nets.

"I borrowed Monsieur Stavros' car and must return it as soon as possible," she explained. "He has just been to my house—"

"One moment, I beg!" interrupted Maurois and rang a bell. When the Armenian butler appeared he gave an order in Greek which Shirley did not understand. When the butler had left he turned to Shirley.

"The car is already on its way back to Stavros," he explained.

"Oh! gasped Shirley. "But—"

"My cars are at your service," interrupted Maurois.

Shirley knew a feeling of helplessness. She could not very well run out of the room and tell Stavros' chauffeur that he must wait. The streets were definitely unsafe at that time of night. But of course Maurois would order his car as soon as she asked him.

She sank back on a chair and took a cup of coffee from the tray which was handed to her.

"You do not find the room hot?" asked Maurois.

"It is delightfully cool in here."

"It is fifty-five degrees," said Maurois. "Outside, it is probably seventy."

By moving this lever which you see at my right hand, I could reduce the temperature to twenty degrees in about five minutes. I told you once that my house fascinates me. This room is surrounded with a miniature cold-storage plant. It was an idea I came across in India."

Shirley was not listening. She had a very definite suspicion that Maurois knew she had come to ask a favor and intended to make her ask it in his own time. His manner, too, was very unusual.

It was a long, rambling anecdote about the cold-storage plant, and it was not his habit to tell anecdotes. It must have been an hour, she judged, before he gave her an opportunity to speak. When it came she was quick to seize it.

"Monsieur Maurois, I am in great trouble and I came here tonight to know if you would help me," she began, then hurriedly gave him the facts of her interview with Stavros.

"He says he must dispatch the order for the withdrawal of the troops at midnight tonight—unless he receives a message from you that you will confirm his statement to the Government," she finished.

"Poor old Stavros!" said Maurois. "He is very easily flustered. Fear is the dominant force in this unhappy country."

"I thought that as nothing is apparently required but just your agreeing with him that there is the danger of the comitadjis swooping down upon Alan and his workmen—I thought that as you have been so extremely kind to us, Monsieur Maurois, you might be willing to write him the letter or whatever it is he wants," pleaded Shirley. "He made it quite clear that a word from you would be enough."

"Let me see, now, there is no telegraphic communication there," said Maurois thoughtfully. "It means that he will send a man on a motorcycle—and the troops will march at dawn."

"Yes, yes, unless you prevent them," cut in Shirley. "Monsieur Maurois, it is extremely difficult to ask a favor from one who has already done so much—"

"Dear lady, to me it is the merest trifle—the writing of a letter," said Maurois, rising.

Shirley got up too.

"Then you will do it?" she cried eagerly.

He smiled and came toward her. "You know I will do it, little one."

The endearment fell upon her like something physical. She saw him, as if through a mist, coming across the hearth towards her. What did he mean when he called her "little one"? Whatever he meant—he was going to save Alan from the comitadjis. Surely nothing else in the world mattered.

"It is nearly ten o'clock and we must move quickly," he was saying. "We will go to the other room and telephone Stavros and he shall have his letter from me in the morning."

"You are a kind, Monsieur Maurois," she said. "I don't know how to thank you."

"Will you thank me for grasping my happiness?" he countered. "I said sharply, and instantly he released her.

"Ten thousand pardons!" exclaimed Maurois. "It is a mistake to which my sex is unfortunately prone."

"I blame myself," cut in Shirley. "I—"

"I beg you will not do that," interrupted Maurois. "Let us agree that we have each miscalculated. Each of us wanted something. I wanted a little romance; you wanted to protect—your investments. Each of us is disappointed. An exchange of condolences, Madame."

Shirley did not miss the subtle insult in the allusion to her "investments." Maurois had seen that Alan did not love her and had concluded that she could have no feeling for Alan. It did not matter. Maurois was a huckster who had tried to buy her. It only remained to get him.

"You are making an absurd mistake, Monsieur Maurois," she said, sharply.

have waited all my life for this moment when you would come to me and ask me something that I could give."

He was close to her now, facing her, while her eyes were turned from him towards the door. She felt his hands touch her waist while something in her brain shouted that Alan would be killed by the comitadjis unless Maurois telephoned at once. The hands were drawing her closer—they had crept to her shoulders.

"This little thing that you ask is yours and all that I have is yours—my house, my fortune."

(That, of course, was the way to save Alan. Alan had no use for her. Maurois was asking for a very little part of her—the part that Roger had asked and tired of so soon. And for that Maurois would give her Alan's safety.)

"You are shy—and I adore shyness. Must I raise your chin? . . . Come, little princess. . . . Show me your mouth."

Time had no meaning. In fractions of a second she lived through hours of thought. She visualized Alan facing the comitadjis, fighting, bleeding, falling, dying with dead around him—and Alan rich and influential, ransomed by Maurois' kisses.

"You are making an absurd mistake, Monsieur Maurois," she said, sharply.

8 CAGE TEAMS AS RESTLESS AS RACE HORSES AT TAPE

CONTESTING FOR CHAMPIONSHIP OF THE STATE

MOORHEAD AND WELLS WILL MEET AT 3 O'CLOCK THIS AFTERNOON

FIRST CLASH AT UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA FIELD HOUSE

By HILLIER KRIEGHBAUM
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Minneapolis, Minn., March 27.—As restless as race horses at the tape, eight high school basketball teams today waited the whistle that would call them into their first contest in the 1936 state championship tournament.

Moorehead, defending champions, and Wells will meet at 3 P. M. this afternoon in the University of Minnesota gymnasium in the first clash of the tournament.

Chisholm and Redwood Falls will meet at 4 P. M. while tonight's games will see Appleton playing Red Wing and Columbia Heights against Mechanic Arts, St. Paul.

All the teams except Red Wing arrived in town yesterday and most of them practiced on the tournament floor late yesterday or last night.

Two protests against the ages of players were found invalid by the tournament managing committee and the teams will go into play with their regular line-ups.

Early ticket sales indicated that all attendance records will be broken at this year's tournament, officials said.

A large delegation from Red Wing is expected to see their local team play tonight. Columbia Heights' supporters to the extent of 1,000 are scheduled to clamor for victory while 2,000 St. Paulites are behind the Mechanic Arts five.

BOTTLERS TAKE

TWO FROM STARS

CAMELS DEFEAT MOOSE IN TWO: ELIDE ROLLS 570 FOR EVENING'S HIGH TOTAL

Braino Beverages maintained their tie with Study Club by winning two games from the All Stars last evening. The All Stars won the first game by 20 pins on a 793 count. The Bottling Works won the second game and in a hard fought battle came out on top by six pins in the last game, although Elide piled up a 213 game and McKinley 182. Elide with 570 was high bowler of the evening. Rowell with 503 was high for Braino Beverages.

The Camels with a four-man team defeated the Moose two games. The Moose won the first but dropped the second by 4 pins and the last game by 23 pins. DeRoche with 194 and Ohm with 189 won the second game while Pratt with 208 was responsible for the last win. DeRoche and Pratt made over 500 with 523 and 521 totals. Miller rolled high for the Moose.

CHICAGO MAN TAKES COUNT IN 54 SECONDS

DURING THAT TIME TRAFTON TUMBLED TWICE FOR SHORT COUNTS

SWUNG ONCE AT CARNERA, BUT MISSED THE MASSIVE PRIMO

Kansas City, Mo., March 27.—(U.P.)—Enriched by several thousand dollars, Primo Carnera and his circus of ring experts were en route for Denver today.

Carnera and his ring companions left here last night, 30 minutes after the mountain man had knocked out George Trafton, Chicago professional football player, his ring opponent.

The Chicago heavyweight fighter took the count 54 seconds after he entered the ring. During that time he tumbled to the mat twice for short counts, swung once at the ponderous Primo and missed, and then dived for the mat after being battered several times by Carnera's fists and legs.

For his services Carnera received 55 per cent of the $15,000 paid by 8,600 ring fans to see the exhibit.

Mr. Trafton received $2,000 for his appearance.

What's in a Name?

"There's nothing in a name," seems to fit New York's newspapers well. It's first "morning" paper comes out at 8 o'clock the evening before, and the first "evening" paper is out at 5 o'clock in the morning. Just transposing the names would fix things all right.—Capper's Weekly.

MIDGET WOLGAST NO CHAMPION IN NEW YORK

Philadelphia, March 27.—(U.P.)—Midget Wolgast is recognized in New York and Philadelphia as world featherweight boxing champion but may not be allowed to defend his title in New York over the championship route.

Wolgast was approved as champion yesterday by the Pennsylvania commission but it was revealed that the champion is only 19.

The New York commission has a rule prohibiting athletes under 21 from boxing more than six rounds. Wolgast won his title in a 15-round bout with Black Bill of Cuba at New York last Friday.

BLIND LAKE

Nils Anderson helped dress three hogs for Fred McKeebe last Wednesday.

L. O. Flick and son left last Thursday for Dakota.

Harry McKeebe and his father made a trip to town on Wednesday evening. Quite a number from out this way attended the Pine River community rally held Friday afternoon and evening of last week.

J. Dauber attended the business meeting of the creamery last Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Robideau were Brainerd visitors last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Day of Ponto Lake visited at the Nils Anderson home from Saturday afternoon until Sunday.

The E. Peterson and Johnson families called at the Julius Erickson home on Sunday afternoon to hear their radio.

Roy Hardy and family visited at the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hilderbran and Mr. and Mrs. Anson Beals on Sunday.

Five New Song Hits!

When "Chasing Rainbows," new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer all-talking musical romance featuring Bessie Love and Charles King, opens today at the Paramount theatre, five new song hits will be heard.

The new songs are "Everybody Tap," "Happy Days Are Here Again" and "Lucky Me, Lovable You," by Milton Ager and Jack Yellen; "Love Ain't Nothing But the Blues," by Lew Alter and Joe Goodwin; and "My Dynamic Personality," by Fred Fisher, George Ward and Reggie Montgomery.

Unromantic Friendship

A platonic friendship is a form of friendship from which the element of romance is wholly absent. It is named for Plato, who depicted such a relationship.

PLATTE LAKE

Two weeks ago Mrs. L. Wohl was to the Cities to see her daughter Edna who was in the hospital there with inflammatory rheumatism. After a week's stay both returned home. We are glad to hear that Edna is feeling considerably better. We hope she will soon be well again.

Last Sunday night the Magnuson family visited at the L. Wohl home; and on Monday night the following families called: Bert Bower's, Mahle's and Heidtke's. Edna ought to be well soon now.

In the last weeks two new families made their homes in Platte Lake; we welcome them. We were glad to see them at divine services Sunday. We are informed that a third family will locate soon in the neighborhood of Johnson's and Paulson's.

Some trappers reported having had good luck; others not so good; reason for the latter: "Too many trappers."

Recently a baby (boy or girl we were not informed) arrived to make its home at Mr. and Mrs. Pete Miller of Maple Grove.

There will be holy Lenten services at the Platte Lake church on Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

"Ashamed of Jesus that dear Friend: On Whom our hopes of heaven depend? No! when I blush—be this my shame: That I do not revere His Name."

YOUNG CORBETT 3RD (ALIAS

THE MOST ILLUSTRIOUS OF RING NAMES.

CORBETT, Gans, Nelson, Jackie Fields, welter champ, Corbett the Third is surely a comer. And, of course, that other Young Corbett (the late William Rothwell), who knocked out Terry McGovern for the world's feather crown, was a star of the first magnitude.

The Gans namesakes—notably, "Baby Joe," "Allentown Joe," and "Panama Joe"—were above average pugs, but only in rare flashes did any of them even approach the true championship class of the Baltimore "Old Master."

The shade of Stanley Ketchel must shiver with that of Gans as from a celestial ringside he has watched the boys who borrowed his fighting name. The current action in an over-weight bout with Steve Ketchel is a promising youngster, and Al Ketchel, Corbett's "Yankee Boy" of a decade and a half ago, was not bad, but the rest of the class Ketchel "caught it" in the ring.

Jack Dempsey took his nom de guerre from the immortal middleweight of that name and he added much to its lustre. Other Dempseys have been but a motley of mediocrities. The Sharkeys—old Tom, little Jack and the current big Jack—make that name stand out.

As evidence, perhaps, of how the popularity of fight champions lives after them in the form of names, note that a thorough search of the records reveals only ONE "Young Gene Tunney." Selah!

School Board Acts on Placing Fire and Tornado Policies on High School

BALLOT TAKEN BY MEMBERS

Committee on Rules for Conducting Auditorium Gives Partial Report

The meeting of the school board last night was largely for the purpose to clean up and to get caught up in business. The approval of minutes went back to January of this year.

Provision was made for the purchase of trays for the cafeteria room. Several applications for the use of the auditorium were passed upon. A few of the details in connection with the payment for help in the rental of the auditorium were adjusted.

The committee on rules governing use of the auditorium made a partial report and was given further time.

The apportioning of insurance on the high school along co-insurance lines covering fire and tornado was made among the various agencies of the city. This was discussed and weighed at great length and was finally voted upon by ballot.

ESDON

The weather Saturday evening looks like we would have winter again.

Mrs. Codding spent a few days last week with Mrs. R. J. Maghan.

Phil Isle did some butchering for John Veit last Monday.

The boys from Esdon are real busy trapping muskrats. It was pretty hard for some of them to wait until twelve o'clock March 20.

The ladies aid met with Mrs. Workman last Thursday. A delicious dinner was served at noon. The day was enjoyed very much.

Dorothy Elmore has been on the sick list the past week. She returned to school Friday.

Miss Florella Mathison spent Saturday evening and part of Sunday in Brainerd with her sister.

Mr. and Mrs. John Pearson were Brainerd visitors Saturday.

Mrs. John Veit took Mr. and Mrs. August Veit down to their daughters place Thursday, where Mrs. August Veit will take care of her daughter Mary, who had a baby girl Wednesday evening.

James Coffield returned to Brainerd Thursday evening from St. Paul. A party was given at Mrs. Bissit's Saturday evening. The evening was spent in playing games. A lovely lunch was served at midnight. We all wish to thank Mrs. Bissit for the good time.

The Mathison family was invited to Brainerd for Sunday dinner.

The neighbors are sorry to hear that one of Able Christianson's horses slipped and broke its leg.

Miss Virginia Hammett spent Sunday with the Coffield girls.

ROOSEVELT

Arch and Earl Coffield were Brainerd business callers Tuesday.

The Scandal Brothers from Minneapolis held a vaudeville show at Pine Center for a week. The last night they had a woman's nailing contest. Mrs. Will Fahneschik got the prize, a 15 piece set of beautiful dishes.

Several from Esdon attended the auction sale at Clarence Bellevue.

Lorna Cooley spent the week end at her home in Roosevelt.

Esther Gallagher was a guest at Mrs. Alex Cash's Sunday.

Ernest Brand had the misfortune spraining his ankle and has to use crutches to get around with.

Archie Coffield and Will Fahneschik were out dragging the town road.

Among those that were callers in Brainerd the week end were Arch and Earl Coffield, Mrs. H. Mangold, Esther Gallagher, Ernest Brand, Mervin Edwards and Frank Groshan.

Lorna and Bernice Cooley visited at the home of Miss Anna Mae Coffield Saturday afternoon.

Joe Edwards called at the Coffield home Saturday evening.

The attendance Sunday at Sunday school was 34 present.

The Modern Woodmen will give their pie social and dance at Pine Center March 29. Everybody is welcome, ladies are asked to bring a pie.

Irvin Chrysler called at Archie Coffield's Sunday evening.

Will Fahneschik was a business caller in Brainerd Wednesday.

Leslie Cooley is working at the saw mill.

Floyd Coffield started working for Irvin Chrysler of Platte Lake.

Relief from Gas Stomach Pains Dizziness

The doctors tell us that 90 per cent of all sickness is due to stomach and bowel troubles. You can't be well if your digestion is bad; you are likely to get sick unless you relish food and digest it properly.

Tanlac has a wonderful record as a relief from digestive troubles, even those of years' standing.

Local people, many of whom you know, are highly endorsing Tanlac. For example, Mrs. Ellen White says: "For years I suffered from indigestion. I got no relief from anything until I took Tanlac. After my fourth bottle, I feel like a new person and have a fine appetite."

If you suffer from gas, pains in the stomach or bowels, dizziness, nausea, constipation, or torpid liver; if you have no appetite, can't sleep and are nervous and all run down, you need Tanlac. It is good, pure medicine, made of roots, herbs and barks. Get a bottle from your druggist today. Money back if it doesn't help you. Accept no substitute.

NORTHERN PACIFIC DECLARES ITS USUAL DIVIDEND

St. Paul, March 27.—(U.P.)—The board of directors of the Northern Pacific Railway company in their New York meeting declared the usual quarterly dividend of $1.25 payable May 1 to stockholders on record April 10, the company's St. Paul headquarters announced today.

The Crow Wing County Garden Flower society will compete in the National Flower Show which opens at the Auditorium, Minneapolis, Saturday and continues for a week.

The society with headquarters at Brainerd will be entered in the Shadowbox class and will compete with other societies in the northwest. A. L. Alexander will represent the society at the show while a number of other members are expected to attend. Officers of the society for the ensuing year are:

President—Dr. G. I. Badeaux.

Vice President—A. L. Alexander.

Secretary—Mrs. Mabel C. Carmichael.

Treasurer—Mrs. C. A. Nelson.

With each membership to the society will be given this year a subscription to "Better Homes and Gardens," a home beautification magazine.

ENJOYABLE CARD PARTY

Mooseheart Legion Entertains Last Evening, 12 Tables of 500 Played

The Mooseheart Legion card party given last evening at the Moose hall proved a very enjoyable affair. Twelve tables of 500 were played with the men's head prize being won by Frank Roberts and the ladies head prize by Mrs. McComas. The men's consolation was given Roger Callahan and the ladies to Mrs. A. Peterson.

The committee in charge of the affair were Genevieve Girard, general chairman, Mrs. L. N. Hanson, Mrs. L. Johnson, Mrs. I. Weston, Mrs. Westman, Mrs. Maud Colman, Mrs. Lucy Wilson and Mrs. Olson.

Refreshments followed the playing.

SHADY POINT

Well, the muskrat trapping season opened last Thursday and is going full blast. While they are getting quite a number of rats, they are not as plentiful as they seemed to be.

Henry Bromberg and son Joe visited with John Carlson and Helmes Kolsbun one evening last week.

Clarence Lockwood sawed wood at the Otto F. Wendt home one day last week.

Axel Peterson hauled home the last of the wood put up by Henry Bromberg. Sleighing being bad, they hauled the last few loads by wagon.

Miss Alvina Raihl and Eddie Raihl visited with Mr. and Mrs. Louis Wiedl one evening last week.

Henry Bromberg and son Joe were guests at the John Fitzpatrick home Sunday, March 16.

We are very sorry to hear that Ted Wolhart lost five stacks of hay through a fire near his place last Saturday.

Helmer Kolsbun and John Carlson visited with Mr. and Mrs. Louis Wiedl one evening last week, playing Wisconsin whist and enjoying the radio.

Nevin Maust entertained a number of his friends Sunday, March 16, the occasion being his birthday. He was given several nice gifts by some of those who attended. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Busby and family, Sherman Maust, Orval Maust, Hershel Maust, Doris and Jane Maust, Bertha, Katie, Ruth and Joe Bromberg, Carl and Irvin Britton, Vernon and Allen Wolhart, Dallas Gates, Maxine, Leonard, Carl, Raymond and Dorothy Kleinschmidt.

The afternoon was spent playing games, after which Orval Maust took the bunch out for a joy ride. Whoopee! A delicious lunch was then served, which was thoroughly enjoyed by everyone.

We are glad to hear that Ben Leonard, who was on the sick list is getting along fine.

Everybody has been busy lately burning their meadows, pastures etc. Being able to burn without a permit until April 1, has been quite an inducement and they have all been taking advantage of it.

We are sorry to hear that Mrs. Wm. Raihl is on the sick list again with a severe cold.

The Wm. Morcomb family motored to Brainerd last week, combining pleasure with business. Returning, they stopped at the Hermann Kleinschmidt home, where dinner was served and the afternoon was spent socially.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Peterson visited with Mr. and Mrs. Louis Wiedl last Saturday evening, playing several games of 500.

Wallace Smart ground feed for some of the neighbors one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Wiedl visited at the Wm. Morcomb home one day last week.

Wm. Morcomb, Sr., of Winona, who was up here on a visit to his son, Wm. Jr., went back home after a visit of four or five days. At the time he was up here, he said that there had not been any snow in Winona for some time.

It never rains, but what it pours, is about the way it is with the George Morcomb family, who have certainly been hard hit with sickness this winter. Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Morcomb have both had a touch of the flu, and their daughter Mrs. Babcock, who is staying at their place, has also been down with a dose of the flu.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smart visited with his folks, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Smart last Sunday.

Alfred Anderson helped with chores at the Geo. Morcomb home last Saturday.

Helmer Kolsbun was a business visitor at Brainerd one day last week.

A few of the neighbors gathered at the C. F. Maust home one day last week, to extend congratulations to Mrs. Maust, who celebrated her birthday.

Charles Babcock, son-in-law of Geo. Morcomb, is at present in Butte, Mont., where he will probably accept a position in a meat market, as he was formerly merly a butcher by trade. His family will follow as soon as he gets located.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Moody have purchased the small Ford truck formerly owned by Ben Leonard and expect to overhaul it shortly, getting it ready for next summer.

Henry Kleinschmidt was a Brainerd visitor one day last week.

Henry Bromberg and son Joe and daughter Bertha visited with Mr. and Mrs. Louis Wiedl one evening last week, being entertained with 500 and radio.

How about the robins, folks? Has anybody seen them yet? We have seen blackbirds and crows, and killdeer, and snipes, and ducks, but no robins. Where are they?

Romance in Groceries

Have you ever considered the romance of so prosaic an institution as your grocery store? The Farm Journal cites a casual survey of a small store in a remote valley of Utah, where it was found that the stock came from 38 states and 14 foreign countries. The case is not unusual. In this day of rapid transportation the whole world labors so that you may eat.

Extending the welcome this afternoon, Miss Florence Swanson, president of the Brainerd Young People's Church Federation said in part:

"Friends, I deeply appreciate the honor I have at this time to bid you welcome to this conference. As I look to your faces and realize you have gathered here from all parts of the state, it is not only pleasure but an inspiration to bid each one of you a hearty welcome to this conference. I express the sentiment of the local young people, the pastors, and Sunday school workers as well as the citizens of Brainerd.

"You will look forward to this conference with great expectation, in fact we could not help but do so because with the speakers we are to have—among the foremost in the country."

Miss Swanson extended a further welcome to the delegates to spend their vacation in the land of 10,000 lakes and attend the Brainerd churches on Sundays while enjoying the outdoors.

"We are gathered here in the presence of God, and as it were in the upper air. Accepting Christ we are truly, 'Pilots of The Upper Air,' she said.

William George of Mankato, who is presiding, responded very fittingly and accepted the kind invitation to again visit the "city of pines."

The conference leaders as introduced are: Rev. Homer J. Armstrong, pastor of the Baptist-Disiples church of Duluth; Dr. R. W. Dowden, executive secretary of the Ramsey County Sunday School Association, St. Paul; Miss Margaret Burnett, director of Religious Education, Macalester Presbyterian church, St. Paul; Miss Jennie Doidge, Young People's superintendent of the Ramsey Sunday School Association, St. Paul; Donald Farley, minister of music and organist, Hamline Methodist Episcopal church, St. Paul; E. G. Fletcher, professor at Macalester college and director of Religious Education at the House of Hope Presbyterian church, St. Paul; Mrs. W. S. MUELLER CABINET IN GERMANY RESIGNS

Berlin, March 27.—(UP)—The cabinet of Chancellor Herman Mueller resigned today.

The cabinet and leaders of the parties which supported it in the Reichstag had failed to compromise differences on the government's program for financial reform and on the budget.

Chancellor Mueller's coalition cabinet, formed with the support of the social democratic, center, people's democratic and Bavarian people's parties in June, 1928, had been in almost continual danger of defeat for months.

The reparations settlements had caused wide dissatisfaction but more recently domestic financial issues weakened the government's support.

Rev. Roy E. Olson Named Chaplain at State School

Northfield, Minn., March 27.—(UP)—Minnesota headquarters of the Norwegian Lutheran church today said Rev. Roy E. Olson, St. Cloud, has been appointed Protestant chaplain at the St. Cloud state school for boys. The appointment is effective April 1.

SEEK AUTHORIZATION OF 9-FOOT CHANNEL

Washington, March 27.—(UP)—A group of Iowa and Minnesota congressmen asked the house rivers and harbors committee today to include authorization for a 9-foot channel in the Mississippi river from St. Louis to Minneapolis in the forthcoming rivers and harbors bill.

NOTICE

There will be a meeting of the Evergreen Cemetery association on the First Tuesday in April, at the office of the Judge of Probate at the court house at 8 o'clock.

NOTICE

Dog licenses are due on April 1 and delinquent May 1. Male dogs, $2, female dogs, $3. A general checkup of all dogs will be made after May 1 and owners who have not then paid licenses will be subject to a fine of not more than $10.

Do Your Feet Pain?

Dr. Scholl's Foot Expert Will Be Here

Saturday, March 29

See Him About Your Feet—No Charge

Your foot trouble may be the result of one or more of a dozen different causes. Only an expert analysis of your feet will tell.

To give you the benefit of the highest skill obtainable, we have arranged with Dr. Wm. M. Scholl, internationally famous Foot Authority, to have an Expert of his staff at our store on the above date.

He will make a scientific analysis of your feet; develop prints which reveal the exact nature of your ailment, and show you what you need to get quick and permanent relief. All this without cost to you or obligation to buy anything.

Remember the date and be sure to come!

Pile Sufferers

You can only get quick, safe and lasting relief by removing the cause—congestion of blood in the lower bowel. Nothing but an internal remedy can do this—that's why cutting and salves fail. Dr. Leonhardt's Hem-Roid, a harmless tablet, is guaranteed to quickly and safely banish any form of Pile misery or money back. H. P. Dunn, Johnson's Pharmacy and drugists everywhere sell it with this guarantee. advt
